Gates Orders New Defense Alert

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Defense Secretary Thomas S. Gates disclosed today that another defense alert in the pattern of that which marked the Paris summit collapse began at 11 p.m. last night. He said it will be "going for several days."

Gates, defending both his May 15 alert order and the value of the now-discontinued U-2 spy plane flights over Russia, told Senate Foreign Relations Committee investigations:

"As of midnight last night we are having another communications exercise, starting at 11 o'clock last night, and it is going for several days."

He said the Joint Chiefs of Staff, as a result of the summit alert experience, "have recommended to me that we have these alerts on a no-notice basis frequently."

The defense chief earlier declared the U-2 spy plane flights provided the United States with secret data about Soviet atomic weapons, missiles, submarines, planes and airfields. He said the information brought back by the planes was "vital information" which was used by the Defense Department.

Gates testified for three hours and Chairman J. William Fulbright (D-Ark.) declared the hearings ended. Fulbright said the committee will begin considering its report next week.

Gates also testified that:

1. He thinks it is "extremely doubtful" Russia will make any agreement on disarmament. He added, however, that hope for a nuclear test suspension agreement seems more likely.

2. He does not think the Russians will change the location of their strategic bases because of the U-2 spy plane disclosures. He said they are more likely to use "different means of building new bases" or of dispersing them.

3. The United States has other means" of getting military information but could have developed defense plans "by no means as well" without the U-2 operation.

Gates said that when he ordered the alert on May 15 he "did not anticipate a surprise attack" but felt that the situation reflected at the summit meeting was "at best, not very constructive."

Nikita Lashes U.S. Policy In Reply To Demo Leaders

Sen. Johnson Labels Aggression Charge 'Arrogant Denial of Facts'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev has written four Democratic leaders that the present U.S. government follows a "doctrine of aggression and provocation" which "was not created by the American people."

Khrushchev wrote that the Soviet Union will carry forward with a policy of peaceful coexistence.

"The present government of the U.S.A., unfortunately, has shown that it seeks not to improve the relations between our two countries but to destroy those positive results which were achieved in Soviet-American relations within the last year and especially as a result of our meeting and talks with President Eisenhower during my visit to the United States last September," he wrote.

"We know, however, that the doctrine of aggression and provocation now proclaimed by the government of the U.S.A. was not created by the American people, that it is not in line with the great democratic traditions of the American nation, traditions of Washington and

Nikita Makes New Disarm Proposals

MOSCOW (AP)—Premier Nikita Khrushchev made new disarmament proposals today to all nations, East and West.

The text of a letter carrying the proposals was to be given out later but it was understood to contain more precise details for staging disarmament year by year than were given last fall by Khrushchev at the United Nations.

County Health Dept. Backs Fluoridation

The Marin County Health Department today was put on record as endorsing fluoridation of the Marin Municipal Water District's water supplies.

Dr. Carolyn B. Albrecht, the following statement:

"The health department has refrained from making a statement on fluoridation up to this time, in order not to become involved in a controversial issue which is to be put to public vote.

"It has become increasingly clear to me, however, that probably a majority of Marin County residents feel the health department should express an opinion, because this is a public health matter.

"Therefore, I wish to say that the Marin County Health Department, without reservation, considers fluoridation of public water supplies a safe, effective and desirable public health measure for reducing the incidence of dental decay."

Dr. Albrecht's statement placed her directly at odds with Dr. Rafael G. Dufficy, the county medical director, who has come out flatly against fluoridation. Dr. Dufficy, however, has emphasized that his opposition is as an individual rather than as county medical head.

The fluoridation issue is to be decided by voters in Marin Municipal Water District in next Tuesday's election.

Mamie Reported Coming Along Well

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Mrs. Mamie Eisenhower is responding well to treatment for acute asthmatic bronchitis, but will be unable to accompany the president to his class reunion at West Point this weekend, the White House reported today.

The first lady was taken to Walter Reed Army Medical Center Tuesday.

Heat Wave Sends Two To Hospital

Marin Swelters As Mercury Tops 100

A heat wave that sent two men to a hospital in San Rafael promised to get even hotter this afternoon.

The temperature hit 102 degrees by noon today in Novato and 100 in San Rafael — 14 points above the reading at the same time yesterday in both places.

Richard Fields, 51, a house painter for Eichler Homes who lives at 1518 Lincoln Avenue, fainted several times yesterday afternoon and was taken to San Rafael General at 6:10 p.m. He was released after being checked, a hospital spokesman reported.

Paul Everett, 51, of 1545 Fourth Street, a form setter for Kimball Manufacturing Corp. of San Rafael, was taken by ambulance to the same hospital today, suffering from heat exhaustion. He was in satisfactory condition, a hospital spokesman reported.

San Anselmo was the hottest spot in the county yesterday, with the mercury climbing to 106 degrees at 2 p.m. At 10 a.m. today the thermometer at the San Anselmo firehouse had already hit the 96-degree mark.

Novato was nearly as hot, with a high at 3 p.m. of 103.

Woodacre roasted at 102 degrees yesterday afternoon and San Rafael and Terra Linda did not do much better at 101.

Things were cooler in Bolinas this morning. At 10 o'clock the mercury registered only 67 degrees.

Fair weather with temperatures much above the normal was forecast to continue for northern and central California through tomorrow.

THAT STUFF IN THE CHANNEL ISN'T CHANEL

The strong stench that has been pervading bay frontages from Novato to Southern Marin apparently comes from algae washed up on mudflats and decomposing the hot sun, a sanitation department official said today.

Sanitarian Maurice Scott said the smell may persist until a strong tide flushes and disperses the decomposing algae. In answer to many complaints about the odor yesterday morning, health officials investigated and found that receding tides after last week's storm had deposited tons of algae on the mudflats.

Normal summer temperatures cause some odor each year, Scott said. But yesterday's heat apparently aggravated the situation.

Larkspur Vote Challenger To Testify

Mrs. Jane W. Epidendio of Larkspur, who was nosed out of a city council post by four votes in April, was to take the witness stand this afternoon in Marin Superior Court to back up her charges of illegal vote counting.

Her attorney, William Corrigan, contends that absentee ballots were counted by the city clerk and city councilmen instead of by the county clerk or his appointee as required in the state Election Code.

Mrs. Epidendio last week asked for a recount, which turned up a few errors and left 14 votes challenged. Without including the challenged votes, Councilman Daniel Allen had 522, Councilman Lesly A. Daveler 521, and Hrs. Epidendio 515.

Even if all the challenged votes go in favor of Mrs. Epidendio, there is little chance that she would be able to overtake the two elected councilmen.

The original count, including absentees ballots, showed Daveler with 528, Allen with 524 and Mrs. Epidendio as 520. If the absentee ballots were not included, Mrs. Epidendio would have been elected.

After today's hearing, Judge N. Charles Brusatori will decide whether the absentee votes are valid, and which of the 14 votes challenged during the recount are valid.

Smog Accompanies Heat In Bay Area

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The San Francisco Bay Area had heavy smog along with unseasonal heat today.

Visibility was affected in the areas of heaviest traffic and many persons complained of eye irritation. (Marin County was smog-free up to noon.)

Warning Given On Sharks In Bay, Ocean

Swimmers in San Francisco Bay and off the Marin coast were warned against sharks today after several were reported seen in bay waters.

A Sausalitotan, Donald Kogut of Gate Five Road, reported to San Francisco police that he saw five sharks off Strawberry Point in Richardson Bay this morning. However, an hour later Kogut called back to say they were not sharks, but rays. At noon, he was out trying to spear one.

San Francisco police said several sharks were reported seen near beaches on the San Francisco side of the bay, however.

The Marin County sheriff's office joined the San Francisco Police Department to warn bathers of the reported presence of what may be maneaters.

In Sausalito, Police Officer John Lunt said swimmers were being warned and told ot stay out of the water at both Valley Street and Shell Beaches.

Lorin Forsyth, assistant supervisor of Stinson Beach State Park, said approximately 200 persons had been warned on the beach by lifeguards. For-

NO PLAYMATE FOR PIPER

San Rafael Pet Shop Overstocked In Python Department; 1 Too Many

Piper, the pet boa constrictor at the H. W. Philo home in San Anselmo, will have to get along with only a jackrabbit as an animal playmate.

It isn't that the python Judy Philo ordered turned out to be too big. He's 14 feet long, "but I could build a bigger cage for him," said Judy today. But she can't afford him.

Judy, 16-year-old Sir Francis Drake High School sophomore, placed an order through Gay Pet Shop of San Rafael for about $25 worth of python. She thought it would be nice to have some other kind of snake besides Piper, which is her second boa.

But the order got twisted, or the supplier overdid the thing. Anyhow, three pythons, lengths 11 to 14 feet, arrived by air freight at San Francisco Airport, addressed to Gay Pet Shop.

Pythons come at about $10 a running foot. Judy's $25 wouldn't go far.

So the pet shop, at 508 Fourth street, San Rafael, took the 14-foot python on approval basis yesterday and sent back the 11-footers.

It was a poor piece of business for the supplier, because the air freight on the box of three snakes came to $213. They came from South America, where they live in trees.

While the pet shop tries to peddle its python, Judy has philosophically returned to Piper and the jackrabbit (which is nameless).

Piper lives in a cage in the Philo home at 182 Pine Street. ("Father hates snakes," said Judy, "but my parents are very good about letting me keep them.")

The jackrabbit lives in a rabbit hutch. Unafraid of the big snake—now over five feet long — it hops about outside the cage without concern, said Judy.

There's a cat, too, also nameless. Awhile back, the cat caught a woodpecker, which became a meal for Piper. The Fear Of Justice Had Haunted Nazi Fugitive

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP)—The hollow-cheeked man with the look of fear stepped from a bus in a Buenos Aires suburb.

One of a crowd of early evening commuters, he was on his way home from work to his wife and family. He never arrived.

Suddenly a car darted out of traffic. The man was dragged inside and whisked off.

Informants say this was the end of a 15-year worldwide manhunt for Adolf Eichmann, mass killer of Jews in Hitler's Germany.

Israel, which now holds the 54-year-old former Nazi colonel has announced Eichmann will stand trial for his part in the extermination of six million Jews.

Israel has clamped a cover of secrecy on how its agents tracked down the war criminal. The generally accepted story is that he was trapped in Argentina and taken from that country May 12 or 13 on the plane that had brought Israel's delegation to Argentine independence anniversary celebrations.

Reliable sources say the fugitive Nazi had lived a life of fear on the run after Germany's defeat in World War II. They say he spent the last eight years in Latin America.

Informants say the once arrogant Nazi "traveled from country to country. He changed jobs, he changed names. But wherever he went, he lived constantly in fear of being killed."

Eichmann was probably fingered inadvertently by his wife, Vera. Vienna reports say she turned up in Linz, Austria, in 1958 to renew her Austrian passport, and that Israeli agents probably followed her back to her husband's Latin America hideout.

Hoffa Wins Round

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The U.S. Court of Appeals today tentatively stripped part of the power from the chairman of the monitors board set up to keep tabs on the Teamsters Union.

The action involved Martin F. O'Donoghue, whose removal has been sought by teamster president James R. Hoffa, and who has been seeking Hoffa's ouster from union office.

In a sharply divided 2-to-1 ruling, the court said District Judge F. Dickinson Letts gave O'Donoghue too much power to deal with the board's administrative affairs.

The appeals court took away the extra authority pending a hearing, date of which was not set.

Crime Rate Climbs

WASHINGTON (UPI)—FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover reports the nation's crime rate continued its upward climb during the first three months of 1960.

Hoover said yesterday a preliminary crime report for the January-March period showed an over-all 7 per cent increase in the number of serious crimes reported by cities with populations over 25,000.

Demo Hopefuls Keep Political Pot Boiling

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Democratic presidential hopefuls were virtually treading on each other's heels today, busy keeping themselves in the voter's eye.

Sen. John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts flew to Chicago to address a Textile Workers Union convention. He then planned a few hours of political discussion with Michigan's Gov. G. Mennen Williams before taking off for Denver.

BROWN HONORED

Last night Kennedy and Sen. Stuart Symington of Missouri appeared on the same platform at a testimonial dinner in San Francisco for California's Gov. Edmund G. Brown.

At the textile worker convention in Chicago last night, Adlai E. Stevenson called for bolder thinking in the Western alliance.

In the Republican camp, word came from Cooperstown, N.Y., yesterday that Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller is almost certain to head New York's 96-member delegation to the GOP convention next month.

'WOULD LIKE TO GO'

Rockefeller said previously he would not go unless he was assured he wouldn't be pressured to accept second place on the ticket behind Vice President Richard M. Nixon. At Cooperstown Rockefeller would not confirm that he'll attend the convention, but did say "I would like to go, but I would not want to disfavor anybody."

California's 81-vote Democratic delegation is pledged to Governor Brown. Kennedy said at a news conference in San Francisco he didn't know how many votes he might have among the delegates, nor did he know whether Brown is in his corner.

PROBLEMS LISTED

In his dinner speech Kennedy listed five problems he said need bold new Democratic programs: Automation, farm program, adequate control of arms, aid to underdeveloped nations, and the challenge of Soviet communism.

Symington criticized the administration's handling of events leading up to the summit collapse.

In Alabama virtually complete returns in the state primary showed that "loyalist" Democrats sworn to support the national ticket in the presidential election won control of a majority of the state's 11 electoral votes.

Bomb Blast Hurts 3

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (UPI)—A mother and her two young daughters were seriously injured today when an explosion believed to be from a bomb rocked their suburban home.

All three were taken to hospitals and police began an investigation to determine why Mrs. Francis Tate and her daughters were singled out for the attack. Police said they believe the bomb was delivered in the mail in a jewelry box.

Reason For Hike

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP)—Dr. Barbara Moore massaged her aching feet and explained last night why she's taking that long walk from California to New York.

"The primary purpose of my walk is to prove that Americans are killing themselves by eating too much meat and drinking too much coffee," she said.

Dr. Moore, a 56-year-old Britisher, attributes her hardiness to a vegetarian diet.

It's Cool—In Midwest

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

A cool front swept across a portion of the country's midsection today, setting off a wave of thunderstorm activity.

The precicipation fell over an area from Lake Superior southwestward into northern Louisiana.

Elsewhere, the weather was clear and dry with the exception of some fog over portions of the West Coast and in the New England states.

Turkey Slates Trials

ANKARA, Turkey (AP) — Turkey's new military government pushed ahead today with plans for speedy trial of two-thirds of the last parliament on charges of violating the constitution.

A government spokesman said all 404 former deputies from ousted Premier Adnan Menderes' Democratic Party had been arrested. The parliament had 610 members.

Manila Casualties

MANILA (AP) — In its final accounting, the government today reported 179 known dead, 59 persons missing and 6,000 homeless from the flash floods which swamped parts of Manila and its suburbs last weekend.

Cuba Air Force Purge

HAVANA (AP)—The cream of Cuba's air force, including most of its jet pilots, has been arrested in a purge ordered by Armed Forces Minister Raul Castro, informed sources say.

Suspicion of loyalties of the pilots and others developed after discovery of an anti-Communist counter-revolutionary plot among air force personnel, the informants said.

Quemoy Bombarded

TAIPEI, Formosa (UPI) — The Chinese Communists unleashed an artillery bombardment at Quemoy yesterday a few hours after President Eisenhower's visit to Formosa was announced, it was disclosed today.

The Nationalist Chinese defense ministry said the Red guns fired a total of 56 rounds on the Nationalist-held offshore islands in one and a half hours.

It is feared here the Chinese Reds may try to harrass Eisenhower's visit to this staunch anti-Communist country by launching a heavy artillery attack on the Nationalist islands in the Formosa Straits.

Baptist Meet Opens

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (UPI)—The American Baptist Convention opens its 53rd annual meeting tonight faced with a decision on a controversial move to withdraw its 1,500,000-member denomination from the National Council of Churches.

The First Baptist Church of Wichita, Kan., has asked northern Baptists to withdraw from the national council, the largest cooperative church body in America. The Kansas church delegation, which has the largest congregation in the denomination with 4,300 members, requested the break because it feels the national council is "too liberal."

The request heads the list of items presented at pre-convention meetings yesterday of the general council, policy-making staff of the denomination.

Duncan Stay Denied

VENTURA (UPI)—Mrs. Elizabeth Duncan, 56, and two men convicted with her in the kidnap-murder of her daughter-in-law have been denied a request for a delay of their execution in the San Quentin Prison gas chamber, scheduled for June 17.

Mrs. Duncan was convicted with Luis Moya, 22, and Augustine Baldonado, 26, of the kidnap-slaying of Olga Duncan, 30, on Nov. 17, 1958. Superior Court Judge William A. Reppy turned down the motion for a stay of execution yesterday.

Chinese Reds Battle Furious Revolt In Tibet

PARO, Bhutan (UPI) — A furious new uprising has broken out against the Chinese communists in western Tibet.

The revolt is so serious that thousands of Chinese troops have been withdrawn from the borders of India, Sikkim and Bhutan to cope with it, informed sources said.

CASUALTIES HEAVY

The reports from official and Tibetan refugee sources said the new uprising started in the Sekhar Dzong area of western Tibet the middle of May and has been taking a heavy toll of Red Chinese casualties.

Several refugees, recently arrived in this tiny Himalayan state on the south border of Tibet, said they had seen 10 to 15 trucks loaded with the bodies of communist soldiers pass through the town of Gyantse.

It is believed here that Nationalist Chinese elements helped spark the fresh outbreak of fighting.

ENCOURAGED BY MONKS

Buddhist monks of the Shigatse Monastery — seat of the Panchen Lama—are also encouraging the freedom fight, refugees said.

The Panchen Lama himself—installed in power by the Chinese after the flight to India of the god-king Dalai Lama—was reported under suspicion by the Communists, although they are not known to have taken any steps against him as yet.

Boys Die In Crash Of Plane They Stole

POMONA (AP)—Two young brothers, who had read a book on how to fly, stole a plane today and flew it for 10 minutes. Then they crashed to their deaths in a screaming power dive.

Their small brown dog was killed with them.

The single-engine plane exploded and burned on impact. It just missed a group of houses, plunging straight into a school ground.

Police said that only three weeks ago the youngsters tried to steal another airplane at the same field from which they took off just after midnight today. They said then they "would die trying" to fly.

The victims were James A. McDonald, 14 and Thomas, 12.

Police Lt. D. F. Archer said the boys at the plane's controls apparently "gunned it wide open" as it nosed toward the ground. A witness said it sounded as though the engine sputtered just before the fatal dive.

Police could not determine who was at the controls.

The boys were reported as runaways by their father Tuesday.

On their earlier flying attempt the brothers were caught by deputies as they taxied a light plane down the runway at Cable Air Field in nearby Claremont. Juvenile authorities handled the matter.

One boy said then he had read a book on flying.

Walter Cable, operator of the airport six miles from the crash scene, said private planes left at the field usually are kept filled with fuel.

An ignition key is generally required to start an engine, he said, but in their first attempt the brothers started the plane by short-circuiting the ignition system.

Weapons Expert Given Pacific Fleet Command

WASHINGTON (AP)—"Savvy" Sides is a technician, a seasoned sailor, a fellow who gives orders in quiet tone.

On Sept. 1, John H. Sides, moving up from his present three-star rank to four-star admiral, will become commander in chief of the Pacific Fleet.

The appointment of the 56-year-old native of Roslyn, Wash., was announced by the White House yesterday to fill the vacancy created by the retirement of Adm. Herbert G. Hopwood.

Sides is a veteran of bitter battles in the Pacific, and has two Legion of Merit decorations for action against the enemy. He was commander of a mine division which penetrated "dangerous waters protected by hostile mines and numerous suicide craft" to help put American forces ashore on Okinawa.

However, Sides never has held command of any of the "numbered fleets"—a normal step toward the high commands of the Pacific or Atlantic sea forces. His brilliant record as weapons technician, including his present duty as head of the Defense Department's Weapons Systems Evaluation Group probably accounts in part for his appointment to the Pacific Fleet command.

Sides gained his nickname "Savvy" after graduation from the U.S. Naval Academy, while serving on his first ship, the battleship Tennessee. He declines to say why the nickname was tagged to him, admitting only to the time of its origin.

ADM. JOHN H. SIDES
To command fleet

But his friends note that he was a "brain" even in the academy, from which he was graduated ninth of 484 members in 1925.

He preferred weapons, became postgraduate ordnance engineer, and has spent much of his naval career specializing in that field. He contributed to development of some of the first of the Navy's missiles, including the Talos, Terrier and Tartar weapons.

In 1956, as the Navy moved into the era of missilery, Sides became the first admiral to hoist his flag in a seagoing guided missile command. He was given command of the then new Cruiser Division 6, consisting of the missile-firing cruisers Canberra and Boston and the command ship Northampton.

In August, 1957, the Defense Department brought him into the Pentagon.

HAS PERSONAL INTEREST

Ike Praises Boy Scouting Movement On Anniversary

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower has a personal interest in both the service and training of Boy Scouts.

Addressing a banquet last night celebrating the 50th anniversary of the Boy Scouts of America, the president lauded their ideal of service.

"I might say that after I finally lose the loving care of the Secret Service," he smiled, "should I be standing one day on the corner of a busy street and a Boy Scout sees this rather elderly looking fellow looking a little doubtful, if he offers to take me across the street, he can do it."

The president also recalled an incident involving his son, Lt. Col. John Eisenhower, to illustrate the value of Boy Scout training. He told of the self-confidence John gained at the age of 12 by making a 14-mile solo hike to meet Scouting requirements.

Eisenhower said it occurred to him at the time "that possibly we are doing a little bit too much of the paternalistic care about our young, and we don't give them an opportunity to develop self-dependence."

Broadway Blackout Appears Certainty

NEW YORK (UPI) — A blackout of all Broadway shows seemed certain tonight.

Producers began closing theaters after Actors Equity forced cancellation last night of the hit play "The Tenth Man."

A million-dollar damage suit by producers against Equity was set to be filed today.

Further negotiations were scheduled, but both sides appeared gloomy.

The cast of "The Tenth Man" attended a union meeting at curtain time instead of reporting backstage at the Booth Theater.

The producers, represented by the New York League of Theaters, said the actors' failure to appear for the performance constituted a strike.

Late last night the league said notices will be posted on bulletin boards of all 22 Broadway houses informing the casts:

"Productions are suspended and will remain suspended until Equity tells us these stoppages will cease."

The union said it was directing actors to report for work at all theaters tonight half an hour before curtain time. If the playhouses are closed, an Equity spokesman said, the actors will consider it a "lockout."

Closing of "The Tenth Man" was in line with Equity's announced plan to close one show at a time—for one night at a time—unless new contract demands are met. The old three-year contract expired at midnight Tuesday. Negotiations far past the deadline failed to end in any agreement.

The greatest stumbling block has been the union's demand for a pension plan.

The producers have said if the union closed one show for one performance, all Broadway plays would close.

S.F. College To Graduate 6 Marinites

Six Marin County residents will receive degrees at commencement exercises of San Francisco's Golden Gate College Wednesday at 8 p.m. in the War Memorial Veterans Buildings at Civic Center.

The graduates will be welcomed by the College's president Dr. Russell T. Sharpe who resides at 59 Golden Hinde Boulevard, Los Ranchitos.

William B. Wolfson of 12 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard will receive his bachelor of laws degree. Wolfson is a deputy clerk in the Marin County Superior Court.

Three Marin men will be awarded bachelor of business administration degrees. They are Robert E. Swendeman, a contractor who resides at 65 Hawthorn Avenue, Mill Valley; Eugene Babow, San Francisco accountant who lives with his parents, Dr. and Mrs. B. L. Babow, at 116 Laurel Grove, Kentfield, and Gerald R. Cervelli, an underwriter for a San Francisco insurance company, who lives at 29 Harte Avenue, San Rafael.

T/Sgt. Elizabeth D. Rieger of Western Air Defense Force at Hamilton Air Force Base will be graduated cum laude. She attended classes under the Air Force's "Operation Bootstrap."

Roy Sorenson of 37 Cloud View Road, Sausalito, will be awarded an honorary doctor of laws degree.

John H. Winters of 78 Surrey Avenue, Mill Valley, will earn his master of business administration.

Degrees will be conferred on the 144 graduates by Howard L. Martin, dean of the school of business administration who resides at 33 Brookside Drive, San Anselmo.

Education Council Elects In Novato

Marks has been a member of the group since its inception two years ago and has served as treasurer.

Other officers elected were Jerome Gilbert, first vice president; Robert Melton, second vice president; Mrs. Fred Volz, recording secretary, and Phillip Rosenberg, corresponding secretary.

Mrs. Peter Yarish was appointed chairman of the legislative committee; Mrs. Alfred G. McElroy, membership chairman, and James Rose, chairman of the junior college committee.

boa, explained Judy, is too lazy to catch her own food. ("I'm pretty sure it's a she," Judy said.) Ordinarily, Judy buys white rats at the pet shop, which gets them from people who have grown tired of them as pets. Piper eats a rat about once every two weeks; between times, nothing.

The boa likes to climb trees, but Judy doesn't let her get too high to reach. The only trouble with the snake's tree climbing proclivities is that she ties herself in knots around the branches and is hard to untie, Judy said.

Piper has been a Philo family pet since last Christmas, when Judy bought her with $22 she had saved. An earlier boa, which she got in September, 1958, caught cold and died.

"If the temperature gets below 60 degrees, they catch cold," explained Judy. That's why Piper lives in a cage in the house.

Why is Judy so fond of snakes?

"They're beautiful," she said.

Boy Reprimanded Over Firecracker

A 12-year-old Mill Valley boy threw a lighted firecracker into the home of a neighbor, sheriff's deputies reported last night.

Mrs. Nellie Dulebohn of 238 California Avenue, Mill Valley, told Deputy Edward Klementovich that the boy opened her front door and tossed the firecracker into the hallway of her home about 5:30 last night.

The boy denied the charge, but his mother admitted he has been in mischief before and may well have done it. The youngster has been expelled from school for the rest of the school term for failing to obey teachers, the officer reported. The boy was reprimanded by his mother, by the victim and by Deputy Klementovich.

FREE COFFEE FOR DRIVERS SAID SUCCESS

STOCKTON (UPI) — San Joaquin County safety officials plan to continue setting up free roadside coffee stands for weary motorists during every holiday weekend this year.

John Burnett of Manteca, president of the county's safety council, said about 600 motorists stopped for cups of coffee Friday and Monday during peak hours of the Memorial Day weekend traffic rush. The coffee stands were placed on four heavily traveled roads.

"It worked out very well," Burnett said. "The people who used it most were apparently the ones who needed it most."

Jefferson, Lincoln and Franklin D. Roosevelt."

The premier's letter, dated May 30, was made public by Senate Democratic leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, one of the Democratic leaders who wrote him just as the summit conference was collapsing in Paris May 16.

Johnson, told the Senate, in making public the letter, that he regarded it as an "arrogant denial of the facts."

The senator noted Khrushchev in the letter renewed his charge that the United States had torpedoed the summit meeting.

Johnson said this statement came from a man "who walked out of Paris after refusing to negotiate on the basic issues of war and peace."

"The only thing that was 'torpedoed' at the summit conference was any confidence that the free world had in the desire of Communists to put an end to the cold war," Johnson said.

Besides Johnson, signers of the letter to Khrushchev were House Speaker Sam Rayburn, Adlai Stevenson and Sen. J. William Fulbright (Ark.).

Pt. Reyes School Teacher Resigns

Trustees of the Point Reyes School District have a "help wanted" sign out for a teacher to take over the one-room schoolhouse next term.

Last night the board accepted the resignation of Mrs. Ada Nielsen, who has been teaching eight grades in the little red schoolhouse for four years. Mrs. Nielsen lives in Fairfax and wants a teaching position closer to her home.

Larkspur Still Hopes To Fend Off Big Sign

Larkspur's city council last night came up with a loophole through which it hoped to wiggle out of an impasse over a huge billboard advertising the Edgewater Inn, proposed for construction beside Highway 101.

The sign, which would measure 12-by-40 feet and sit on 30-foot stilts on residentially zoned property of the Northwestern Pacific Railroad, was approved by the planning commission in April.

City Atty. Samuel W. Gardiner ruled that the city council was not legally in a position to overrule the planning commission since the council is not "one of the parties involved." Only James Stockman, Edgewater Inn proprietor, and the planning commission fall within that category, Gardiner said.

Last night the council attempted to solve the problem simply by telling Stockman the sign is not wanted—and would he please not put it up.

If he did, councilmen added, they would amend the zoning ordinance so the sign could legally be junked.

Also, attorney John G. Buresh, representing Edward H. Fifer, owner of adjoining property within the Corte Madera city limits, said the land in question is leased by West Coast Advertising Co., not by Stockman. Therefore, said Buresh, Stockman had no legal standing in applying for the variance in the first place.

"Even if Stockman does not erect a sign, there is nothing to stop the advertising company from putting up a sign advertising anything they want to," Buresh said.

"I feel we are in the ridiculous position of not even being able to hear this matter," said Councilman James L. Lienkaemper.

The council put the matter over for 30 days—trusting in the cooperative spirit of Stockman to put an end to it.

Holy Ghost Festival Slated In Sausalito

The celebration of the Holy Ghost, a Portuguese festival, will be the cause of a big weekend in Sausalito, Saturday and Sunday.

There will be much dancing at the IDESST Hall on Caledonia Street, a parade, crowning of queens and much eating of sopas and meat.

Manuel Brazil, president of IDESST, said the two-day annual event will commence Saturday at 8 a.m. with a recitation of the Rosary in the chapel of IDESST Hall. The public is invited, he said, as with all of the activities, and there will be no charge for anything.

Dancing will be from 9 p.m. Saturday to 1 a.m. Sunday to the music of John Perry and his orchestra of Santa Clara in the IDESST Hall. During the evening the reigning queen and her two maids will be introduced.

On Sunday, a parade will form at the hall at 9:30 a.m. The big and little queens, plus their maids, will ride in the parade, which will proceed to the new Star of the Sea Church where the queens are to be crowned.

The queen is Regina Nunes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Manuel Nunes of Santa Rosa. Her maids are Catherine Nunes, sister of the queen, and Loretta Nunes, cousin of the queen. Catherin Nunes is of Santa Rosa, Loretta Nunes is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Nunes of Lucas Valley.

The little queen is Nancy Lee Silva, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tony Silva of Mill Valley. Her two maids are Janet Filippi, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Filippi of Mill Valley, and Susan Rocha, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Rocha of Mill Valley.

There will also be a Queen Isabel in the parade, who is Jean Silva of Petaluma, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Silva.

Sausalito Mayor Philip S. Ehrlich Jr. and Councilmen Michael Harris, George E. Keeney, Howard Sievers and Marjorie Bracy will participate, along with Fire Chief Mathew J. (Matts) Perry and Police Chief Howard Goerndt.

The Sea Point Parlor, Native Sons, drum and bugle corps of Sausalito, Scout groups, Little League and Pony League groups will be in the parade, along with drum corps and marching units from San Francisco and Bay Area cities.

When the parade arrives at the church, Rev. Henry O'Flynn will say Mass at approximately 10:30 a.m. and will also crown the queens. The parade returns to the hall after mass.

Lunch of sopas and meat will be served at the hall at this time. Sopas is a Portuguese word for beef broth over French bread with mint, Brazil said.

After lunch, dancing will be resumed. Dinner will be at 7 o'clock with more sopas and meat and is to be followed by dancing until midnight.

Last Saturday, an auction of livestock was held at the end of Coloma Street in Sausalito, Brazil said, at which time donated calves, heifers and beef were sold to raise funds to help put on the festival.

STOCKS TODAY

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market closed higher today with heavy trading. Steels and motors paced the rise. Electronics faded.

Volume for the day was estimated at 3,700,000 shares compared with 3,770,000 yesterday.

Gains of fractions to two points or more among previously neglected cyclical issues intermingled with losses among groups which drew no interest.

Electronics and other recent gainers were slashed from one to three points as some Wall Street advisers urged profit taking.

Fire Board To Open Bids On Substation

Bids for the Trestle Glen fire substation in the Tiburon Fire Protection District will be opened at 5:30 p.m. today in the Tiburon boulevard main fire station.

Architect E. Allen Steinau Jr. will supervise the bid opening, said commissioner secretary Kelley J. Wheeler

Architects To Draft Plans For Lagunitas Classrooms

Trustees of the Lagunitas School District signed a contract last night with two Tiburon architects to plan four or five additional classrooms to be built for the next school term.

Charles W. Callister and J. Martin Rosse will draw up plans for the classrooms to be built with monies from the State Aid Fund.

The trustees are also considering the possibility of building a multi-use room, Clerk Winifred S. Frederick reported.

The architects were also instructed to make a topographical survey of land adjacent to the school site. The trustees must purchase two to three and a half acres to bring the parcel up to specifications required by the Division of School Planning under the State Department of Education.

The trustees voted to raise salaries of the bus driver and custodian by $25 a month.

A preliminary budget session will be held at the next meeting, June 16 at 8 p.m., at the Lagunitas School.

Group To Honor Retiring Teacher

Amy Thompson, retiring teacher at Tamalpais High School, will be honored for her long service to the public by the Marin County Federation of Teachers at its annual dinner meeting at Bob's Edgewater Inn, Corte Madera, Saturday at 7 p.m.

Maurice Englander, San Francisco high school teacher, will speak on "Teachers and the Union Movement."

Prior to the dinner there will be a short business meeting, and completion of election of officers for the next school year.

State Vetoes Larkspur Request For Road Aid

A flat "no" was the answer from the State of California last night to the City of Larkspur's request that the state be responsible for 470 feet of Sir Francis Drake Boulevard from the Highway 101 interchange to the point where the street leaves the city.

City Manager Ronald E. Piper was instructed by the city council to inform the county board of supervisors that the city could no nothing about the section of the road because no state funds were forthcoming.

Even if the city had the money—which councilmen said it doesn't—the council felt the city had more pressing uses for it.

"Whether it costs $7,900 or $12,000, we would still be building a road for people from Ross, Kentfield, San Anselmo and Fairfax," said Mayor H. H. (Steve) Wheeler.

Rezoning approximately 30 acres of land on Bon Air Hill from single to multi-family zoning was approved by the council.

The land, property of the Schultz Building Co., was under single residence zoning according to city law requiring that zoning for all lands annexed. The property was annexed to the city within the last two years.

The property would be used for apartment houses, according to Niels Schultz Jr., who appeared before the council in support of the zoning change. The action, which was similarly approved by the planning commission last month, was not opposed.

In other action last night, the Larkspur council:

1. Advised Mrs. Myron Kaplan of 26 Cornell Street that her request for a crossing guard at Magnolia Avenue and Doherty Drive would be referred to the Larkspur School District. The council expressed approval of the district's placing a student traffic control system at the crossing, which is near Henry C. Hall School.

2. Accepted Doherty Drive as a major city street so the street could eventually be improved with state gasoline tax funds.

3. Approved an engineering study of Marina Vista on petition of seven property owners who wish to form an assessment district for improvement of the street.

Slayer's Petition Charges 'Torture'

Marion James Linden yesterday petitioned the State Supreme Court for a writ of habeas corpus on grounds that his scheduled execution at San Quentin Prison constitutes cruel and unusual torture.

The petition also charted that San Quentin Warden Fred Dickson executes some prisoners more mercifully than others.

Linden is under the death sentence for the 1947 slaying of Los Angeles Police Officer Leo Wise.

4-H Members Set Exhibit In Petaluma

Marin County 4-H Club members will exhibit their projects at the annual 4-H Club Exhibit Day on Saturday at the Fourth District Fairgrounds in Petaluma.

The youngsters will compete for ribbons in livestock, poultry and rabbits, home economics, electricity, entomology, forestry, woodworking and gardening.

Beginning at 8:30 a.m., members will participate in a judging event in livestock and dairy, followed by a showmanship contest at 9:30 a.m.

A judging event in home economics will take place at 10:30 a.m. From -2:30 to 1:30 p.m., horse project members will present an equitation demonstration.

The climax of the day's program will be a fashion show and presentation of awards at 2 p.m. The county winner will be named at the fashion show to represent Marin County at the state dress revue on the Davis campus of University of California late in August.

Exhibit Of Marin Artist's Works Set

A champagne reception and preview of the paintings of John Lynch of Larkspur will be held in the Sutter Towers Hospital in San Francisco tomorrow from 6 to 8:30 p.m.

On exhibit in the dining room and corridors of the hospital at 2356 Sutter Street will be 30 paintings in oil and lacquer, which Lynch describes as ranging from "representational to abstract expressionism."

JOLTS LORDS — Britain's House of Lords was shocked yesterday when 64-year-old Baroness Irene Ravensdale, told of her tour around London's strip clubs and drinking dens. She said she found a "sordid world of violence, criminals, pimps and call girls." She likened it to prohibition days in the United States.—(AP Wirephoto)

Living Standard Increase Predicted

OAKLAND (UPI)—Henry J. Kaiser predicted last night that the American standard of living can be doubled within the next 20 years.

The industrialist spoke to an appreciation dinner sponsored by the Oakland Chamber of Commerce and 15 other organizations including the cities of Oakland and Alameda and the port of Oakland.

The Bay Area, he predicted, "will be one of the world's outstanding beneficiaries of all the miracles-in-industry and more splendid life."

Government Try To Take Over Church Causes Riot In Poland

WARSAW, Poland (AP) — Roman Catholics and police battled Monday in a provincial capital in a clash set off by government attempts to take over a church building for a community center.

It was the second such outbreak in the Polish provinces within five weeks.

Church sources said Stefan Cardinal Wyszinski, head of the church in Poland, met today with his bishops and other advisers as news of Monday's religious outbreak at Zielona Gora spread.

Zielona Gora, a city of 50,000, before 1945 was the German town of Gruenberg, in Lower Silesia. After Poland took it over in 1945, it was settled by deeply religious Poles from the eastern territories taken over by the Soviet Union.

Roman Catholic sources gave this account of the clash:

Local authorities attempted to take over a building used by the church as a parish hall to convert it into a community center. Workmen were sent to begin remodeling the building Monday morning. A group of women drove the workmen away.

Police arrived but could not cope with the crowd, which had grown to several hundred persons. The crowd hurled rocks at the outnumbered police.

The disorders continued throughout the afternoon. Police reinforcements from Poznan, 66 miles away, arrived early in the evening. The crowd had grown to about 5,000 persons, and the police had to use tear gas bombs to disperse them.

There were some reports of injuries and arrests.

Costly Rumor

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Frank Frisella was dismayed when he heard a rumor that a nursery planting area was to be developed into a subdivision and that plants there could be had for the taking.

Frisella owns the area, which he uses in his nursery business, and he knew the rumor to be false. He rushed right out, but was too late.

Missing were some 300 trees, shrubs and other plants valued at $1,600.

DRIVER CHEATS TOLL GATE— A LOW TRICK

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich. (AP) — Richard Bladey pleaded guilty in police court to violating a city traffic law and paid a $25 fine.

Police said Bladey was spotted slipping his low-slung sports car under the toll gate at a municipal parking lot.

He should have stuck a quarter in the slot.

Church Group Scores Film-TV 'View Of Man'

NEW YORK (AP)—The image of man pictured by much of television, radio and the movies is often "poles apart from the Christian understanding of man and his purpose," a study commission has reported to the National Council of Churches.

"We speak not merely of the pathological preoccupation with sex and violence" in films and television and "revelations of dishonest practices within the industries," the commission said.

More fundamental, it added, is the assumption that "man's end is material advantage, power and pleasure, to be achieved through competing with, manipulating and exploiting his fellow man."

"We recognize this is symptomatic of a moral disease of our society, reflected in the mass media," the commission said, "and we confess that the churches themselves share in a responsibility for this moral disease."

The commission, which made a two-year study of the church in relation to mass media, reported yesterday to the 250-member General Board of the National Council of Churches. Thirty-three million Americans belong to the Protestant and Eastern Orthodox denominations represented in the council.

Controller Lists California Cities' Income Sources

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—California cities collected nearly three quarters of their revenue in property and sales taxes, outside subventions and grants in 1958-59, according to the state controller's office.

Controller Alan Cranston said yesterday that property taxes, which totaled $324,114,000, and sales taxes, at $166,751,223 were both above the same figures for the previous fiscal year.

Subventions and grants totaled $135,172,006, slightly lower than 1957-58.

The three categories accounted for 71.94 per cent of the total of $868,961,437 accumulated by 354 cities. Expenditures totaled $854,808,912.

'Desperate' Foster Home Need Cited

The Marin County Welfare Department yesterday announced there was a "desperate" need for foster homes in the southern half of the county.

Mrs. Jacqueline Hutchins, foster home licensing worker, speaking in the wake of the board of supervisors' decision to make improvements on juvenile hall on hearing a report that 47 boys were living in facilities designed for 20, said there was a particular need for foster homes in the Mill Valley-Corte Madera area.

Foster homes are always needed across the county, Mrs. Hutchins stressed, but at present the welfare department is looking for receiving parents to care for children for "a short term on a full-time basis."

The county budget provided for funds for three "subsidized receiving homes" this year for non-delinquent children, Mrs. Hutchins said but so far the welfare department has been unable to find anyone to undertake the job.

A receiving home must be able to accommodate three youngsters or more, for which the foster parents would be paid $100 monthly and $2 per day per child, said Mrs. Hutchins. They care for the non-delinquent children until permanent arrangements are made.

Parents in a standard foster home are paid from $70 to $100 a month depending on the age of the child.

There is also a special need for a "study home where the foster parents would have had training and experience" to be able to relate the behavior of a disturbed child, said Mrs. Hutchins. Foster parents providing this type of home would be paid a higher fee.

Persons interested in becoming foster or receiving parents may call Mrs. Hutchins at the welfare department, 622 Fourth Street, San Rafael.

SAN BERNARDINO (AP)—Jimmy Kendrick, 29, escaped San Quentin Prison convict, will learn next Monday whether he will get the death penalty or life imprisonment for murdering a highway patrolman.

The jury will next decide the penalty.

IT FINANCES FIREMEN

Larkspur's Rose Bowl Opens Season Saturday

Larkspur's Rose Bowl—the open air dance pavilion which has been a city institution for more than 50 years—will open for business again Saturday night.

Operated by the Volunteer Firemen's Assn., the dances financed Larkspur's fire department from 1908 until the city took over the chore in 1957.

Proceeds from the Saturday night dances, held throughout the summer until September, are still poured back into the department by the volunteers, making Larkspur unusual in that the taxpayers have never been asked to contribute a dime for fire department operation.

The first volunteer department was organized in 1906 as a bucket brigade—firemen furnishing their own buckets and axes. The first dances were organized to raise money for better buckets, and were held in Corte Madera, which boasted the only dance hall in the area.

The take was sufficient to pay the operating cost of the department and equip the firemen with a hand-pulled hose reel.

It was for the three-day celebration of the city's incorporation in 1908 that the first temporary outdoor dance platform was built. Because of lack of floor space, the orchestra played from a perch in a huge tree at the edge of the platform.

Despite these limitations, however, the dances financed purchase of a chemical tank wagon and installation of about 30 hydrants.

The first Rose Bowl was built in 1910, measuring only 60 by 40 feet. So popular was the idea that the floor has been enlarged many times since. It is now more than 10 times its original size.

The Rose Bowl not only built the present Larkspur firehouse and furnished most of its equipment, it was also the scene of many a courtship which ended in marriage.

Even in the face of competition from television and Hollywood, the dances are still an event in the life of the city. And when Johnny Cordoni's orchestra plays the first number Saturday night, more than a half century of memories will come to life for another year.

Airmen May Get Relief From KP

No more dishpan hands at Hamilton Air Force Base — maybe.

The base has applied to Washington for approval of an unspecified sum to hire a civilian contractor to take care of KP duties.

Under a new Air Force ruling, taking effect July 1, base commanders can hire private agencies for KP duties. Airmen won't know for sure whether they can throw away the potato peelers until they find whether funds requested are approved.

The free world used more than 400 million pounds of nickel during 1959, an increase of about 25 per cent over 1958.

Man, Behind Bars For 63 Years, Freed

LOGANSPORT, Ind. (UPI)—Henry Sullivan, 85, tasted freedom for the first time in 63 years today.

Sullivan lived behind bars at Indiana prisons and mental hospitals for nearly three-fourth of his life.

In 1897, when he was 22, Sullivan was given a 1-to-14-year sentence for a $14.65 burglary.

Seven years later, he was transferred to a state hospital as a "melancholia" case. The state never formally committed him to an institution, but it took him 56 years to get out.

He might be there yet if he hadn't escaped from the Logansport Hospital two years ago. He went immediately to a courthouse and demanded either prison or freedom.

The courts cut the red tape and Sullivan went free yesterday—but on a 60-day convalescent leave.

The lack of unconditional release irritated the peppery, tiny old man.

"I feel like Caryl Chessman," he said.

But freedom—it's wonderful. "I'm not afraid of it. I just haven't had enough of it.

"It's nice so much attention is being paid to me," he said. "When I was in a tight jam, no one had any time for me."

Sullivan has a guardian, Mrs. Mary Murphy, a 78-year-old widow who will be his landlady.

The Stuarts were restored to the English throne with the coronation of Charles II in 1660.

Sausalito Pair Celebrates 50 Years Of Marriage

Fifty years ago yesterday, Mr. and Mrs. St. Clair Woods of Sausalito were married at the home of Mrs. Woods' father, Dr. William C. Simpson, in New Brighton, Pa.

Yesterday they celebrated their golden wedding at the home of their son, Jack Woods, at 253 Glen Drive, Sausalito. The senior Woods live next door at 241 Glen Drive.

Mrs. Woods was born, reared and married in the same house, she said. Her husband was from Sewickley, Pa., 17 miles from New Brighton, and was chief clerk of the Diamond National Bank of Pittsburgh at the time of their wedding.

Two years after their marriage the Woods moved to Glendale, where they lived until five years ago, when they moved to Sausalito.

Woods worked as a teller in a Los Angeles bank for several years, then became manager of a poultry producers association in Los Angeles. He next went into business for himself, buying a feed and fuel supply company in Garden Grove. He worked with the Central Business District Assn. in Los Angeles for several years and following this for 20 years was office manager of the Los Angeles County Department of Buildings and Safety. He has been retired for six years.

The Woods have a daughter and a son and six grandchildren. Their son is in charge of creative packaging for the West coast office of Milprint Inc. in San Francisco. The daughter, Mrs. Robert F. Kase, lives in Sunland, Los Angeles County.

Ex-Hungarian Official In Marin Talk

A former high-ranking Hungarian official yesterday warned College of Marin students they must not look on education only "as a means toward financial and material success."

"You must also work toward an understanding of democratic ideals and the furtherance of those ideals," said Dr. Nicholas Nyradi, former minister of finance in the Hungarian government and now director of the Institute of International Studies at Bradley University, Peoria, Ill.

Nyradi, speaking before more than 400 students, visitors and college officials under sponsorship of the board of trustees, said we must let the Russians know we are "ready, willing and able" to fight for our ideals.

WEAKNESS

"Peace at all costs represents weakness," Nyradi said.

Warning that Americans are "too relaxed, optimistic and hopeful" regarding peace, he declared: "The time has come when the only alternative to World War III is strength.

"Strength is the only force the Russians understand."

He urged the students to be prepared to make sacrifices for their ideals. He cited the example of a 15-year-old Hungarian high school girl who soaked herself with gasoline, set herself on fire and plunged in flames inside a Russian tank on the streets of Budapest.

IN UNDERGROUND

Nyradi was active in the anti-Nazi underground in Hungary during World War II and left the country with his wife in 1948. He is now an American citizen.

He is the author of "My Ringside Seat in Moscow," a book written from his experiences for seven years with the Soviet Politburo during Russian-Hungarian negotiations.

His speech yesterday was closed with a silent prayer for those who have sacrificed their lives for freedom.

AFTER 36 YEARS—W. Dean Potts, chairman of the mathematics department at Tamalpais High School, will retire June 17 after 36 years as mathematics teacher on the Mill Valley campus. For 24 years he also coached the football team. Potts has had two yearbooks dedicated to him over the years. Also retiring June 17 will be a second Tam mathematics teacher, Amy Thompson. She was ill this week and absent from school. (Independent-Journal photo)

2 Tam Math Teachers To Retire This Month

Two mathematics teachers at Tamalpais High School will retire this month after spending more than 30 years on the Mill Valley campus.

W. Dean Potts, chairman of the mathematics department, and Amy Thompson, the only woman to ever teach physics in Tamalpais Union High School District, both plan on traveling after dismissing their last classes June 17.

Miss Thompson will begin a two-year tour of Europe immediately after the Monterey Jazz Festival. Potts and his wife will travel through the United States, visiting the places they have not had the time to see over the years.

Potts, a native of Illinois, has been teaching mathematics at Tam for 36 years, coming to the Mill Valley campus in 1924, six years after taking his bachelor of science degree at Wichita University in Kansas. He coached football for 24 years and also handled the lightweight basketball squad.

In 1927 Potts received his master's degree from the University of California. He and his wife live at 90 Eldridge Avenue. He is a member of the Commonwealth Club of California, Independent Order of Foresters and California Mathematics Council.

Miss Thompson, an ardent jazz fan and collector of jazz records, began her teaching career 40 years ago in Blue Earth, Minn., after completing her studies in mathematics and physics at the University of Minnesota in 1920. She taught in Klamath Falls, Ore., and Gustine, Merced County, before coming to Tam high 32 years ago.

The small, white-haired, energetic woman who commutes daily from her Russian Hill apartment in San Francisco to her Mill Valley classroom plans on picking up a sports car in Germany and motoring across the continent, spending the summer in Scandinavia and the winter on the shores of the Mediterranean.

She has been away from the campus the past two weeks because of illness.

Miss Thompson is faculty adviser for the Junior Statesmen on the Mill Valley campus.

Sam Houston, first president of the Republic of Texas, ran away from his Tennessee wilderness home at the age of 15 [illegible] a tribe of Cherokee Indians.

Dixie District Tax Boost Vote Slated

Dixie School District residents will vote Tuesday on a proposal to increase the district's basic tax rate from $1.83 to $2.45 per $100 assessed valuation.

Supt. Dennis B. Willis said the 62-cent increase would be used as follows: $28,500 for the hiring of a librarian and four additional teachers; $9,500 to employ a full-time curriculum specialist; $13,800 for ground improvements such as blacktopping and purchase of physical education equipment and $14,000 for the buying of library books and equipment to improve the science and mathematics programs.

OVERRIDE TAX

In addition to the $1.83 tax rate that pays for the general operating expenses of the school district, residents pay an additional "override tax."

Last year, override taxes in the area amounted to 55 cents per $100 assessed valuation, with five cents going to the teacher retirement fund, five cents for public use of school buildings for recreation, seven cents for the retirement of non-teaching employees, 10 cents to loan repayment to the state, and 28 cents toward bond retirement.

Willis said the override taxes will be approximately the same for the next fiscal year, but the amounts for retirement of non-teaching personnel, state loan and bond issue payments have not yet been fixed. These are not affected by outcome of the election.

TAXED SEPARATELY

The tax increase is for elementary schools. The Dixie district is included in the San Rafael High School District which taxes separately. The high school district's tax rate this year totaled $1.19 and is expected to rise slightly for 1960-61.

Directors of the Terra Linda Community Services District, the Marinwood Home and School Club, Terra Linda Parents Group and Dixie School Council have endorsed the tax raise, Willis announced.

No organized opposition has appeared.

Larkspur Teacher Wins Fellowship

THE 'FLYING BEETLE' TAKES OFF

The "Flying Beetle," an experimental British jet plane, took off vertically during a demonstration at an airfield near Beford, England, Tuesday, and hopped to a height of 40 feet in four seconds. The delta-winged, tailless aircraft is powered by five Rolls Royce engines, four of which exhaust downwards for vertical lift. The fifth, at the rear of the craft, provides the normal forward propulsion. The "Beetle" is equipped with an automatic stabilizing system that permits it to change from forward to hover flight, or to push itself in reverse. (AP Wirephoto)

'BREACH OF FAITH'

Brown Stripes Cause Council To See Red

The stripes on the walls of the De Beaubien Pontiac building have been changed to brown, but they still make the Mill Valley City Council see red.

Councilman Michael Wornum last night accused Jules de Beaubien, the auto agency proprietor, of "a breach of faith if not of law" because the brown stripes have been painted on the walls of the building at 374 Miller Avenue.

When de Beaubien applied for permission to remodel the building, said Wornum, the architectural advisory committee (of which Wornum was then a member) had obtained a promise the firm would omit red stripes it had planned to paint on the building.

But the stripes are there, said Wornum — except that they're brown.

Wornum asked if the council had any legal recourse to force de Beaubien to eliminate the stripes. He was told it had none.

"Certainly it's the sense of this council that we don't care much for this decorating scheme, and we regret publicly and loudly that we can't do anything about it," said Councilman Joseph E. Sheeks.

Belvedere Building Permits In Drop

Building permits issued in Belvedere last month totaled less than half of those issued in May of 1959, City Manager Britton Rey said.

Last month two permits were issued to build additions to homes amounting to $10,800 and one permit for a new building costing $31,000. The total for the month was $41,800.

Last May the total was $87,571 with three new buildings included.

Threats Spur White Exodus From Congo

LEOPARDVILLE, Belgian Congo (AP)—Increasing numbers of Europeans are fleeing the Congo as the territory's June 30 Independence Day approaches.

Women and children make up the bulk of airline passenger lists.

The exodus has been hastened by anti-white threats. One African newspaper predicted it soon will not be a crime for Africans to rape white women. African nationalist propagandists boats white women will be "ours" after independence. Some European women have received letters from Negroes seeking mistresses.

Africans have circulated lists of Europeans "invited" to leave before June 30 or face trouble.

A weekly in Katanga province, a rich copper area, has published lists of Europeans ordered to leave at once, Europeans ordered to leave before June 30, and Europeans who will be allowed to stay after independence.

In some areas, Congolese have asked Europeans to let them inspect their homes, explaining that the houses will be turned over to Africans after independence.

Brussels has sent reinforcements to bolster about 25,000 African troops expected to remain loyal.

The Congo government is to be named June 20. Belgian civil servants are due to remain for some time after that date.

Critic of critics was Disraeli who observed: "Critics are the men who have failed in literature and art."

THEY'LL FINISH THE JOB AT HARVEST TIME

JEANNETTE, Pa. (AP) — Vegetables and flowers are growing on a main business street in this western Pennsylvania community.

Tomatoes, cabbage, corn, petaunias, geraniums and other items have been springing up in a symbolic protest by merchants against delay on a widening and repaving project.

The project was started about three months ago on a seven-block section of the street. It was to be finished by now. But slowed-up installation of water lines and a gas company strike have impeded progress.

State's Police Win Praise For Holding Traffic Toll Down

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Motorists and law enforcement officers were praised today by the California Traffic Safety Foundation for holding down the traffic fatality toll over the 3-day Memorial Day holiday weekend.

Managing director Earl F. Campbell said in a statement: "One fatality is just one too many. However, California's total of 24 traffic deaths is four less than in 1959 when we celebrated a 2-day holiday, and 14 less than in 1958, a 3-day period.

"For the entire year 1959, California averaged 9.8 traffic deaths a day. This past weekend, the fatality average dropped to 7.3 a day."

Bird Gets Blame For Crash Sending Driver To Hospital

A bird which flew against the windshield of a moving automobile was blamed for an accident last night which hospitalized Harold Perriman, 54, of Woodacre.

The California Highway Patrol said the mishap took place about 10 p.m. on the San Geronimo-Nicassio Road.

Perriman told the patrol he was startled by the impact of the bird striking his windshield and lost control of his car. The vehicle, Perriman said, left the roadway and crashed.

After Perriman had been taken to Ross General Hospital at 1 a.m. by a passing motorist, a Fairfax tow truck made two trips along the road in the vicinity where the accident was reported, about three miles northwest of Nicasio, without finding the car.

A hospital spokesman said today that Perriman is suffering from a probable rib fracture and chest bruises. His condition was described as satisfactory.

Perriman, who lives at Park and Railroad Avenues, is a self-employed accountant.

BETTER STICK TO BARBERING

H. R. Darnell, a Des Moines, Iowa, barber, did a fine job on a do-it-yourself project of concreting the driveway at his home—except for one little thing. He forgot to move his car out of the garage first. As a result, he'll be afoot for four days while the concrete hardens. (AP Wirephoto)

IMPROVEMENTS ORDERED

House Given Reprieve By Larkspur Council

Larkspur city officials last night gave their approval to the "beauty treatment" being given a Madrone Canyon home they had threatened with condemnation, and agreed to wait until September before taking any further action.

Attached to the reprieve, however, was a list of certain improvements the city says must be accomplished on the house belonging to Mrs. Helen M. Martin—or else.

City Manager Ronald E. Piper said the home at 328 Madrone Avenue was first brought to the attention of the council in 1958 when neighbors complained of a broken sewer line. Investigation revealed, Piper said, that the place was a fire and health hazard. Mrs. Martin, who has owned the home since 1948, was told to bring it up to standard.

The improvements which the council ordered last night include construction of foundations in front and back, removal of a rotting floor and installation of adequate electrical switches and wiring.

Although Mrs. Martin declared she wanted it in the record that she was doing the repairs of her own free will and not because of "coercion" by the council, she said she was pleased with the decision.

Not so happy with the councilmen's action—and especially with their "inspection tours" —was Mrs. Martin's husband, Kenneth, just returned from a four-month trip to sea.

Hinting at court action over what he called "illegal entry," Martin demanded to know who "blew the whistle" on the house in the first place.

"Did you say that house was not fit for a dog to live in?" Martin asked of Councilman Daniel Allen who was on the council at the time the house first came under official scrutiny.

"I said that two years ago," Allen answered.

"Well, I lived in it two years ago—and I'm not a dog," Martin replied.

"I have talked to a lawyer about your entering the house without permission," Martin told the council.

Both Mayor H. H. (Steve) Wheeler and Piper assured him that the building inspector or city officials could enter a vacant home if it was suspected of being a hazard.

Renting the home from Mrs. Martin and performing the repair and remodeling work are Carlin Drais and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Snyder.

Mill Valley Man Buys Novato Gas Station

Smilin' Ed Wood's service station in Novato has been sold by Robert Dress of San Rafael to John Young.

Young, of Mill Valley, also owns a service station in San Anselmo. He was manager of the Novato station for about three years. The Novato station now is being managed by Young's partner, Daniel Mathias.

Council Action Brings Protest In Mill Valley

Two Mill Valley residents asked the city council last night to reconsider its permission for Morrison Goodrich to build on two substandard lots.

The lots, at 291 and 305 Marion Avenue, are under the 6,000-square-foot minimum established by an ordinance passed in 1959. They were not substandard when Goodrich bought them in 1956.

Samuel Swadesh of 31 Millside Lane said he came before the city council as a citizen asking that the council back its own ordinance (the 6,000-square-foot requirement). He asked for additional aid and legal information.

Vernon Hawley of 333 Marion Avenue said the ordinance was established for the general welfare of the citizens and, "It is our feeling you should take the position of upholding this general welfare."

Councilmen said they stood on City Atty. Thomas C. Nelson's opinion that the owner could develop each lot. They said if any other action was to be taken, the two men should work through their attorneys and Nelson.

The nation's florists handled 8,227,237 flowers-by-wire orders in 1959 for a record total of $63,330,142.

A Mill Valley artist has been chosen as one of the art judges for California's 1960 State Fair in Sacramento Aug. 31-Sept. 11.

Richard E. O'Hanlon of 616 Throckmorton Avenue has been named a judge in the sculpture division.

State fair directors have announced premiums totaling $10,585 will be offered this year in the art competition. All entry blanks for the art show must be received by state fair officials by July 5, they announced.

Larkspur Compromises In Pay Recommendation

Two of four veteran Larkspur city employees were granted raises last night, recommended by City Manager Ronald E. Piper.

Of the other two, one was reduced in pay. The fourth received only half of the raise requested.

As proposed by Piper, Asst. Fire Chief Clair Harder was given an increase totaling 10 per cent, bringing him to $481 a month. Street Supt. Warren Mistron also won a 10 per cent wage hike to $556.

Fire Chief George Bartram, who would have received $584 under the proposed increase, was dropped back in the step and range scale to $556. Mrs. Ruby Daly, account clerk who works on a part-time, hourly basis, will receive $341 instead of $358 as recommended.

At a previous council meeting, all other city employees were awarded an over-all 5 per cent raise. Those in line for normal increases under the city's system of automatic raises received an additional 5 per cent.

The four in question, who were taken under council consideration at the request of Councilman Lesly A. Daveler, had either reached the top or were nearly at the top of their pay scales. Through Piper's recommendation, they would have been granted raises as well as the opportunity to gain further increases through addition of steps in the scale.

In opposing the council action last night, Daveler said he found no fault with the 5 per cent increase, but felt that was all the four in question deserved.

"The fire chief has not yet passed his preliminary period as a temporary employee in that post," Daveler reminded the council. "As to the street superintendent, this is the only city I know of which has a working foreman on the city crew." This fact, Daveler said, relieved the superintendent of many of his normal duties.

"The account clerk's salary is being compared to those of other small cities and we are ignoring the fact she works only seven-eighths of the time clerks in other cities do," Daveler said.

Mayor H. H. (Steve) Wheeler insisted that Daveler was overlooking many "pertinent facts" when he failed to see that the fire chief, for example, was a "special case."

"He is competent in every way and is even fulfilling duties his predecessor did not," Wheeler said.

"I would like to hear some expression from the volunteer firemen on that," Daveler replied.

"We had no opinion from the volunteers all during our recent upheaval," Piper said. "I certainly don't feel like going to them for an opinion now."

Piper reminded Daveler that the Larkspur street superintendent is also in charge of the city sanitary system, thus performing double duty.

"I see no reason for keeping these people below their wage potential in other cities," Wheeler said. "Even with their raises they are not up to what they should be."

The motion to compromise on the recommendation for raises for all four was made by Councilman Arthur E. Storhaug and seconded by Councilman Daniel Allen. Daveler cast the only dissenting vote.

Miller, Challenger Debate On Radio

Warnings against the possibility of blundering into war were voiced by Rep. Clement W. Miller (D) of Corte Madera and Fred G. Dupuis, Tiburon Republican challenger for his office, on radio station KTIM's "political sounding board" series finale today.

Though neither is opposed in Tuesday's, primaries, moderator Kitty Oppenheimer had trouble in getting to listeners' questions because of demands for rebuttal time by both contenders. The program was tape-recorded and will be rebroadcast Sunday at 12:30 p.m.

A "crash program" is urgently needed to seek ways to peace, Miller said. He attacked the administration for having only 100 reasearchers in this field and spending a quarter-million dollars annually, as against vast outlays of money and personnel for defense.

Failure to acquire knowledge on disarmament and arms control constitutes "one of the most glaring failures of the present administration," said Miller. He called the centering of such research in the Defense Department "sending the wolf to guard the sheep."

Dupuis said no candidate is campaigning on a program of war, but that logic calls for concern over possibility of "war through miscalculation." He recalled that "Hitler didn't begin with the idea of losing" and said: "We must be careful that our policies lead to peace, not to war through miscalculation by the other side."

Russia has never been in more than a temporary hibernation, said Dupuis, adding that he had "no apology for the U-2 incident" because he was proud that there are men in the government willing to take steps to avert a second Pearl Harbor.

Miller put forward a four-point program, which Dupuis later said "sounds good" but is subject to various criticisms.

His points included more research in "trouble zones" including mutual Russo-American pull-out from Berlin and reopening of channels of communication with China, and improved use of federal finances to give more money to civilian branches of government.

Dupuis countered that easy solutions of the peace problem cannot come from such things as "summitry," that the Russians seized on the U-2 incident as an excuse to torpedo a meeting they'd have rejected by some other means if necessary; that 13 years with the Federal Bureau of Investigation convinced him many fail to realize the Red threat to national existence; and that a nuclear test ban has been in existence for eight months without beneficial results.

A point of direct conflict was Red China. Dupuis charged that it is not a "peace-loving nation" entitled to United Nations membership under the charter. Miller said he is not now urging diplomatic recognition, but feels it is necessary to "communicate" with the Chinese, adding: "We must stop hiding our head in the sand."

When Dupuis said he "questioned the wisdom of my opponent's campaign to eliminate the House Un-American Activities committee," Miller retorted that he merely wanted its functions "tranferred to the judiciary committee, where they should be.

Miller listed at length possible improvements for the First Congressional District. Dupuis agreed that the list was "quite complete," but said a priority system is necessary to assure their accomplishment.

The Miller list included such public works as the San Rafael Canal, dredging of Richardson Bay and other bays, flood control "of paramount importance" especially in Mill Valley and Novato areas, airport aid, help for commuters, education, shippers and dairy ranchers, and more "living space" for cities.

GIFT HORSE LOST

Mill Valley Contractor Withdraws Road Offer

The Mill Valley City Council, with the help of a few residents, looked a gift horse in the mouth too hard last night.

The gift horse promptly became a gift horse no longer.

Howard Lane of 119 Hazel Avenue proposed to the council that, if the city would grade Summit Avenue for seven-tenths of a mile up to Fern Canyon Road, where he has a subdivision, he would apply two coats of oil and asphalt at his own expense.

But Dr. Isaac Silverman of 762 Summit questioned Lane's proposal. "He has made various suggestions, threats and comments in a manner which does not indicate good faith," charged Silverman.

Dr. Daniel A. Collins of 700 Summit said Lane had called him with a proposal that property owners put in $50 a year to keep up Summit Avenue.

Both Silverman and Collins objected to sales of property in the area without notice to the residents.

"In view of the developments this evening," snorted Lane, "I want to withdraw my offer." He said he would improve Fern Canyon Road only, not Summit Avenue.

The Mill Valley City Council also:

1. Approved the final map of Scott Valley Unit 1, to be built by George C. Goheen in a portion of the area to the rear of Sutton Manor.
2. Received a complimentary letter from Ross Valley Kiwanis Club and a $25 check to help defray cost of the new "Welcome to Mill Valley" sign placed near Sutton Manor.
3. Approved warrants totaling $22,357.
4. Agreed to write letters to county, state and national officials saying that Mill Valley endorses the proposed Golden Gate Memorial Park.
5. Agreed to meet for luncheon June 11 with the Mill Valley Junior Chamber of Commerce to discuss the Mill Valley Festival which is set for Sept. 23, 24 and 25.

Tommy's Out Of Pit And Out Of Limelight

CHICAGO (AP) — You could hardly buy the services involved in rescuing Tommy from his predicament.

Maybe Julius Pekofsky could not have bought those services; maybe he would not.

Tommy could not have bought his way out of his trouble; it looked like he didn't want to get out of it, anyway.

But, Tommy the Horse, whether he enjoyed his fling into the public's eye or not, is once more a member of the diminishing horsey set that pulls fruit and vegetable carts.

Tommy's troubles started Monday when he fell down a stairway (or walked down or fell through rotted boards) into an unused, empty wine cellar. The first floor now is used as a stable.

Pekofsky, his owner, found him Tuesday, and when his own efforts to free Tommy failed called the anti-cruelty society for help.

J. J. Shaffer, managing director of the society, looked over the situation and decided Tommy might be enticed out of the cellar with hay and other horse goodies. None worked.

So engineers were called; they looked over the problem and decided to call:

Four pieces of fire department equipment; several police and squad cars; several civil defense rescue unit trucks; an assortment of construction crew men; a tow truck, a winch, a block and tackle unit.

Tommy went most of Tuesday and yesterday placidly munching hay and drinking water.

A tarpaulin was stretched around his midsection and attached to a hoist; it slipped and anyway, Tommy refused to cooperate. Tommy remained in the cellar.

Workers covered Tommy with an asbestos blanket and others widening the opening above him. When the groundside workers encountered metal and concrete, acetelyne torches and pneumatic drills were used to enlarge the opening.

With the opening above Tommy now enlarged, a civil defense truck pulled up. From its rear a winch dropped a block and tackle above Tommy; a sling was stretched around Tommy's midsection again.

Slowly, inch by inch he was hoisted out of the cellar. When he emerged, a cheer went up from the assembled workers and onlookers.

His cuts and bruises treated by a veterinarian, the 12-year-old Tommy was taken to another stable. Said Pekofsky:

"I'll give him a few days rest, but I can't pull the cart by myself, so he'll go back to work soon."

Candidates' Night Slated At College

The three candidates for county supervisor from Ross Valley will present their platforms at a candidates' night meeting tonight at 8 o'clock in Room 37, Science Building, College of Marin.

Incumbent William D. Fusselman and challengers Harvey W. Killan and Frederic D. Kerr, will face one another under sponsorship of the Kentfield Civic League.

The program will be moderated by Edward Hindley. A question-and-answer period will follow the candidates' speeches.

NORWICH, N.Y. (UPI) — Only one traffic accident was reported in this area during a recent holiday weekend, but even the minor mishap got good play in the local papers. Involved in the crash were two cars, one driven by Mrs. Dorothy Bice, 25, the other driven by her brother, Franklin De Rose.

VACATION'S OVER—Horse Tommy of Chicago dubiously surveys the prospect of returning to his job as a fruit cart puller after a vacation which started abruptly when he fell (or walked) into a cellar under his stable. He refused to cooperate in efforts to get him out, and was finally hauled to ground level yesterday through a massive rescue (?) effort. Leading old Thos. is his owner, Julius Pekofsky. Others in photo are members of the rescue team. (AP Wirephoto)

Russia's Simple Folk Mourn As Pasternak Goes To Grave

MOSCOW (UPI) — Nobel Prize writer Boris Pasternak went to his grave today as he had lived —loved by simple people, and ignored or disliked by the communist regime.

More than 1,000 weeping and silent persons attended the simple last rites.

Pasternak died Monday at 70 after two heart attacks, pneumonia and cancer.

His novel, "Dr. Zhivago," portrayed the struggle of an individual in Russia as society is being reformed to assert the state's domination over all individuals. It was a best-seller in the western world, but was never wholly published in Russia. It earned rave reviews in the West and the Kremlin's anger behind the Iron Curtain.

The Kremlin sent nobody to the funeral. But almost half the mourners were teen-agers, students who probably never knew Pasternak.

Missing from the funeral procession were Soviet literary leaders who denounced "Dr. Zhivago" and the 1958 Nobel Prize for Literature which its author had to renounce to remain on the Russian soil he loved.

But in attendance were a sprinkling of Soviet writers who wept and sobbed as Russia's most universally applauded author since Leo Tolstoy went to his grave. There were also simple farm women in kerchiefs and blonde actresses in black veils who came for a final look at the author Premier Nikita Khrushchev personally denounced.

They piled a mountain of flowers on the plain wooden coffin. And for six hours before the service, they marched single file past the coffin.

Paint brushes need cleaning after each use. If paint, varnish or shellac is allowed to dry in a brush, it never again is free of dried flecks. To clean, scrape off excess paint from the brush, against the edge of the can. Then swipe back and forth on newspapers. Wash several times in the liquid used as a thinner. Then, wash the brush in soap or detergent suds, rinse and dry.

Drake High Girl To Go To Europe

A Sir Francis Drake High School senior who is to be graduated this month will leave June 20 for a two-month stay in Europe under auspices of the Experiment in International Living.

Shirley J. Simpson, 17, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Simpson of Oak Grove Avenue, Woodacre, will spend half of her travel time living with a family in Wolfsburg, Austria, and the other half traveling through the rest of Austria.

Shirley will return next September in time to start classes at San Jose State College, where she plans to take a liberal arts course.

REPORT TO THE VOTERS

Our Recommendations for June 7, 1960 Election

1. 2,250,000 Bond Issue for County Indigent Hospital ..... Vote NO
To tear down the present good building is a waste of tax money.

2. Fluoridation has Raised Its Ugly POISON head ..... Vote NO
Another bureaucracy and increase in TAXES.

3. For Supervisor — 3rd District
J. Walter Blair ..... Vote YES
Supervisor Schultz has NOT helped lower taxes. Records show over 100% increase in county valuations in the last 5 years. Taxes would have been much higher if you had not said NO to—Civic Center—Road and Airport bonds—Flood Control Districts, etc., etc.

Giants Overdue To Snap Batting Slump

Paltry hitting by the San Francisco Giants, considered a powerhouse in pre-season estimates, continues to worry Manager Billy Rigney.

"We can't seem to get a good pop," the silver-haired field boss said after the second place Giant squeaked by Chicago 2-1 on pitcher Sam Jones game-winning double in the ninth inning.

Lefty Dick Ellsworth, 20-year-old Cub rookie, had no trouble with the big guns, Willie Mays, Willie McCovey, Orlando Cepeda and Willie Kirkland, but lost to a .265 hitter, Bob Schmidt, and Jones, who, despite his talk of prowess at the plate, is pretty much of a popcorn hitter.

Ellsworth had a two-hitter going into the ninth and erased Kirkland and Andre Rodgers. Schmidt singled and Jones hit a fat curve over left fielder Lou Johnson's head, scoring Schmidt.

The victory gave the Giants a series split with the seventh place Cubs. Three of the four games were won by one run. The Giants were held to five, eight, six and four hits.

Mays and Kirkland are the only Giants hitting over .300 Mays is .338, Kirkland .315. Kirkland beat out a bouncer to Ellsworth for one of the Giants hits yesterday.

The other power hitters, Cepeda and McCovey, are batting at .263 and .251.

Rigney shook his lineup, benching second baseman Don Blasingame, .219, and moving third baseman Joe Amalfitano to second, putting Rodgers on third.

RODGERS SCORES

Rodgers walked twice, scored the first run in the third when he walked, was sacrificed to second by Jones and came home on Ed Bressoud's single. Bressoud, regular shortstop, is hitting a measly .224.

The Cubs scored their run in the fourth, when Ernie Banks singled and Ed Bouchee tripled.

Jones' victory, a five-hitter, was his sixth in 10 decisions.

St. Louis opened a four-game Candlestick Park series today and Rigney commented, "We're due to bust out on somebody."

The Giants hoped to bust out against right-hander Larry Jackson, who has beat them twice already this season. He has a 5-5 record. Billy O'Dell, a lefty with a 2-4 mark, was to go for the Giants.

'Too Many Individual Giants Stars'—Loes

There are some unkind souls who say that Billy Loes doesn't care whether he wins or loses. That's because the San Francisco pitcher once declared he would not like to become a 20-game winner.

There are some who believe Loes is not particularly loyal to his club. That's because he was once quoted as picking the New York Yankees over his own Brooklyn Dodgers in a World Series.

There are some who think Loes has no particular interest in baseball, merely taking advantage of his natural talents to have fun, both in and outside of the game.

The 30-year-old ace reliever bristled when these accusations were presented to him. Some of his remarks had to be censured.

Did he pick the Yankees to beat his Brooklyn club in the 1953 World Series?

"Naw," he replied. "I told some writer the Yankees should beat us in six, but that we were going to win it in seven. Again, he just used one part of my quote.

"Take this year, for instance. The Giants should win. We've got the best club in the league. The only thing I'm worried about is that our club is made up of individual stars. Just like the Milwaukee club. Too many individual stars.

"Pittsburgh and Los Angeles don't have individual stars but they have great team play. That's what won for the Dodgers last year. And that's what's got the Pirates in first place this year.

"But don't have me saying that I think the Dodgers or the Pirates will win the National League pennant this year. I still think the Giants will win it . . . at least I hope so."

What about his interest, or alleged lack of it, in baseball?

"Look," he said, "I'm a lucky guy and I know it. I've always admitted it. I never was a great pitcher, but here I am in my 11th year in the big leagues. Each year I think it's my last and ecah year I'm back.

"Everything I have I owe to baseball. Without it I would have nothing. Why, because of baseball I was able to buy a home for my mom and dad."

Loes went on to explain the background for some of those "bad raps" he claims to have received from the press.

"Sure I said I didn't want to win 20," he said, "but I also added, as long as the Dodgers (his team then) win the pennant. Nobody bothered to quote me fully.

"I still say I don't care if I never win another game this year as long as the Giants win the pennant. Personally, I don't care about myself. I got a job to do and I do it. If I don't, I don't. They'll just hand me my pink slip and that's it. I certainly am not going to worry. I see what worrying is doing to Rigney (Giant Manager Bill Rigney). He'll be down to 150 pounds before the season ends."

Marin Swimmers Gain 5 Places In YMCA Finals

Coach Beth Kaufman's Marin Pirates swim team met some of the toughest competition of the season this week at the annual Berkeley YMCA swim meet at Walnut Creek, but managed to take five places in the finals.

Three national and 10 Pacific Assn. AAU age group records fell at the big meet which attracted swimmers from California, Oregon and Washington.

George Girvin led the Pirates with a second in the 11-12 boys 50-yard butterfly and a third in the 50-yard freestyle.

Other Pirates in the finals were Bart Yeager, tie for second, 10 and under boys 25 freestyle; Bob Girvin, fourth, 10 and under boys 25 back stroke, and Lynne Keeler, sixth, 13-14 girls 50 freestyle.

MARIN COACHES PICK ALL-LEAGUE LINEUP

Sir Francis Drake Pirates, the undisputed champions, and the Marin Catholic Wildcats each placed three men on the Marin County Athletic League's All-Star baseball team which was selected last night at a meeting of coaches.

The 10-man team (two pitchers), is made up of five seniors and five juniors.

Drake's All-Stars include catcher Paul White, the league's batting king, pitcher Nino Geminiani and outfielder Mike Bresnan. White is a senior, the others juniors.

Marin Catholic's trio on the dream team are first baseman Art Quinn, shortstop Ron Blum and outfielder Doug Wilson, all seniors.

The balance of the team includes second baseman Rich Curry, and pitcher Dennis Hall of San Rafael, both juniors; third baseman Dave Broome, a senior, and outfielder Ed Collins, a junior, of Tamalpais.

Redwood and Novato failed to place a player on the lineup.

Burglar Commits An Error, Cops Pull A Double Play

BURGLAR Commits 224 spts

All the errors at Candlestick Park don't go up on the scoreboard.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon E. Taylor was robbed May 14. The loot included their season tickets to the San Francisco Giants games.

The Taylors, loyal fans, bought other seats for Tuesday night's Giant game with the Chicago Cubs. They looked toward their old box seats, wistfully . . .

"Hey, who's that sitting there?"

The Taylors and a posse of park policemen surrounded the occupants of the seats, Mr. and Mrs. James Carlson of Sioux City, Iowa.

The Carlsons said they got the tickets from their nephew, Ted A. Carlstrom, 20, a San Francisco warehouseman.

Police found most of the Taylor's missing property—including the tickets—at Carlstrom's home. He was charged with burglary yesterday.

NATIONAL LEAGUE ROUNDUP

Bucs Hot At Home, But Can They Keep It Up On Road?

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Bob Friend, a 22-game winner in 1958 and a 19-game loser last season, definitely is back in business with Pittsburgh. But the big question now is whether the Pirates can stay in business on a 17-game, three-week road trip.

Friend won his sixth, putting away his third shutout with a three-hitter, as Pittsburgh defeated Cincinnati 5-0 last night. It was the fifth straight success for the Pirates and left them 1½ games ahead of San Francisco in the National League race as they closed a 10-4 home stand.

OPEN IN PHILLY

Now all the Pirates have to do is to keep rolling on the road trip that opens at Philadelphia tomorrow night.

The Giants stayed close with a 2-1 decision over Chicago's Cubs, breaking a 1-1 tie on winning pitcher Sam Jones' two-out double in the ninth. Milwaukee regained third from Cincinnati with a 6-3 victory at Philadelphia. St. Louis rapped Los Angeles 5-2.

Friend, who has lost two, struck out six and walked just one while giving the Pittsburgh staff its first complete game in a dozen tries. All of the Reds' hits were singles.

The Pirates beat ex-mate Bob Purkey (3-2) with two runs in the first, when Dick Groat doubled between singles by Don Hoak and Rocky Nelson. Roberto Clemente doubled home two more in the third. Hoak, Groat and Bob Skinner singled for the final run in the seventh.

Milwaukee, 6½ games behind the Pirates, scored the clincher against Robin Roberts (1-7) on Wes Covington's solo home run in the sixth inning. Covington and Joe Adcock, who regained the N.L. bat lead from Clemente at .356 with two hits, each drove in two runs. Bob Buhl (4-2) gave up 10 hits.

Ken Boyer upped his major-league leading home run total to 13 and drove in two runs for the Cardinals. His single and Daryl Spencer's two-run double brought St. Louis from behind in a three-run fifth against loser Sandy Koufax (1-6). Winning reliever Bob Duliba (3-2) and Lindy McDaniel blanked Los Angeles on six hits after rookie Ray Sadecki gave up two runs.

Clark Construction Company Service

We have insurance on our lives, autos, homes, furnishings, surrounding grounds, boats, everything concerning our happiness. Yet how many of us has taken the time to learn how to protect our families in the event of a national emergency? The Office of Civilian Defense tells us:

"Fallout can threaten more people than blast and heat in a nuclear attack.

"We do not want a war. We do not know whether there will be a war. But we know that forces hostile to us possess weapons that could destroy us if we were unready. These weapons create a new threat, radio-active fallout that can spread death anywhere.

"That is why we must prepare.

"No matter where you live a fallout shelter is necessary insurance. It will not be needed except in emergency. But in emergency it will be priceless, as priceless as your life.

"Whether you evacuate or take shelter in an emergency, one of the basic preparations recommended is an adequate food supply for your family. An emergency food storage could be the family's only available supply of food.

"Each person and family must be prepared to meet individual survival requirements for two weeks following an attack without dependence on outside assistance.

Williams Would Be Good Choice As Manager, May Change His Mind

CONNOLLY

I can't think of a single reason why (if he isn't going to make a change), owner Tom Yawkey of the Boston Red Sox shouldn't pick Ted Williams to succeed Billy Jurges as manager.

I know, Yawkey has stated he doesn't at this time contemplate a shakeup in the managerial department and that Williams insists he wouldn't take the job if offered to him, but their statements haven't satisfied me. I'm not yet convinced that Williams won't be Yawkey's choice as the manager of the club someday, and I think the financial reward would make Ted change his mind.

It might turn out to be one of the best moves Yawkey has made, and certainly it couldn't be any worse than some others he has made down through the years.

Williams, for more than 20 years, has been the greatest drawing card, the greatest ball player, and the highest priced ball player in Boston's history. He hasn't been easy to handle because most of his managers never really belonged.

It'll be real interesting and would be extremely enjoyable to me to see the Boston baseball writers really getting acquainted with the tall splinter. And they would soon learn to like him.

From the first time he put on the uniform at San Diego until now, I have always found Ted Williams pleasant, intelligent and willing to talk baseball. He is a guy with strong convictions, but he has 'em, and that is what so many other managers lack.

BASEBALL WRITERS in Boston, if I know them, would love to see Williams placed on the spot. It might give them a swell chance to put the old sockeroo in where he might get hurt.

But I believe if Ted Williams ever becomes manager at Boston he will last a long time, succeed, and before he is through with the game will go down as a guy who was misjudged, until the writers got to know him.

After all, a baseball writer has to like baseball to want to be connected with it. And if he can get his stories from someone who means something, it makes for a better story and carries a bigger audience.

I believe Williams would only ask the writers to quote him correctly. And I believe if Ted told them something for publication he'd stand by what he said and have a good explanation for saying it.

ONE MANAGER right now who is in the same spot as Jurges at Boston is our old friend Solly Hemus at St. Louis.

Solly has one of the National League's greatest on his club—Stan Musial. He knows Stan is nearing the end of a great career. But owner August Busch of the Cards would like his manager to continue to play Musial. And the strange part of it, according to press dispatches, is that Musial wants to play.

We had a very similar instance here with the Giants. Owner Horace Stoneham wanted Andre Rodgers for his shortstop and, we are told, he wouldn't be satisfied unless Rodgers made the job.

Well everyone knows, including Boss Stoneham, that Rodgers wasn't quite ready and might have been broken in spirit, had Stoneham not agreed to remove him from the lineup.

BILL RIGNEY took a lot of blame for keeping Rodgers in there, but Stoneham never once denied the fact that it was his mistake and not his managers.

So if you are an owner of a ball club and want somebody to manage the ball club, either let him do it or get somebody else.

That is why I say if Tom Yawkey wants to make a change at Boston and thinks Ted Williams would fit the bill, why not let him do it.

Not Lost, Just Sleepy

LA CROSSE, Wis. (AP)— Police were beginning to get worried when a three-hour search failed to turn up 6-year-old Gregory Snyder, reported missing by his parents. Then someone peeked in the doghouse in the Snyder back yard.

There was Gregory, fast asleep.

MAY I CUT IN?—Willie Pastrano (left) dances in to plant a left on the guard of Sonny Ray in third round of their nationally-televised light heavyweight fight last night. Pastrano won unanimous decision. (AP Wirephoto)

Pastrano In Lop-Sided Win Over Ray

CHICAGO (AP)—Despite Willie Pastrano's nimbleness, he still hasn't been fast enough to catch up with the man he wants most—light-heavyweight champion Archie Moore.

The jogging, jabbing Miami boxer, rated No. 3 by the National Boxing Assn., registered his fourth straight victory of the year with ease last night. He took a lop-sided 10-round decision over Chicago's bewildered Sonny Ray, who chased and chased the flitting Pastrano like a man with a bug net.

"I'm going to stay in the light-heavy ranks," said Pastrano afterwards. "I'll do as much fighting as I can, but I hope some day I can catch Moore for a title shot."

Pastrano weighed 175 pounds. Ray came in at 173, but must have lost at least five pounds running after Pastrano in the televised Chicago Stadium affair.

Under the five point must system, Referee Walter Brightmore scored it 49-42, Judge Howard Walsh 48-46 and Judge John Schreiner 47-44. The Associated Press card favored Pastrano 49-45.

Babs McIntire Wins British Golf Title

HARLECH, Wales (UPI)—Barbara McIntire, the American champion from Lake Park, Fla., scored a 4 and 2 victory over Philomena Garvey of Ireland in their 36-hole final today to win the British Women's Amateur Golf Championship.

By winning, the 25-year-old Miss McIntire became the third woman to hold the U. S. and British amateur championships simultaneously. The late Babe Didrickson Zaharias completed the "small slam" in 1947 and Louise Suggs, another American, turned the trick the following year.

Miss McIntire, who had easy sailing throughout the four-day tournament, took a 6-up lead after 18 holes, widened it to 8-up after 27 and then held off a belated rally on the last nine to close out the match.

Along her way to the title, Barbara defeated Isa Goldschmidt of Italy, 4 and 3, Annis Trehane of Wales, 5 and 4, Gillian Coldwell of England, 8 and 6, Joanne Goodwin of Haverhill, Mass., 2-up and Anne Quast of Marysville, Wash., 4 and 3.

Jumpers May Outdo Herb At Compton

COMPTON (UPI) — Herb Elliott, Australia's world champion miler, is rarely overshadowed in a track and field meet, but the high jumping duel between John Thomas and Charley Dumas in tomorrow night's Compton Invitational meet may be the feature attraction.

For Thomas, who has jumped the highest of any man in the world, it will be his first western appearance and the first time he and Dumas, the Olympic champion, have met outdoors. And to add to the interest, Ed Costa of Brigham Young University, the third best jumper in the United States with a leap of 6 feet, 11 inches this year, was a late addition to the field.

Elliott, whose trip to the United States was instigated by Compton Meet Director Herschel Smith, is hopeful he may be in top condition for the mile in which he will receive his opposition from such outstanding American performers as Jim Grelle of Oregon, Jerome Walters of the Southern California striders and Archie San Romani Jr. of Wichita.

OLYMPIC STANDARD

Jim Beatty, who ran a 3:58 mile at Modesto last week, switches to the 5000 meters for this meet along with his Santa Clara Valley Youth Village teammate, Laszlo Tabori, seeking to become the first U.S. runner to meet the Olympic qualifying standard in that event.

The 400-meter hurdle race featuring world's champion Glenn Davis, Dave Styron of Northeastern Louisiana State and Rex Cawley of the Southern California frosh shared top interest in the track events.

Once-Scorned Brown Has O's Flying High

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

A pitcher Paul Richards once scorned as "Line Drive Brown" is making the Baltimore Orioles' leader look like the manager of the year.

His full name is Hector Harold (Skinny) Brown and he's traveled the hamburger circuit for much of his 15-year career. But along with the rest of Richards' kids and castoffs he's caught a severe case of early season pennant fever and last night he came within one pitch of no-hit fame.

The 35-year-old native of Greensboro, N.C., yielded a first-inning homer to Mickey Mantle and then went on to beat the New York Yankees, 4-1, without allowing another hit. The victory boosted the Orioles' American League lead over the rained-out Cleveland Indians to 2½ games and was their sixth triumph in seven games and their 10th in 12.

Brown, tagged "Line Drive" when Richards okayed his trade by Chicago to Boston in 1952, has compiled a 4-1 record and permitted just eight walks in 46 innings. He's beaten the Yankees twice and the Indians and Red Sox once each while suffering only a 2-0 loss to New York.

Rookie shortstop Ronnie Hansen hit a three-run homer off Duke Maas to give the Orioles the lead in the fifth inning and Brown took it from there as he retired the last 16 Yankees in order. Rookie second-baseman Marv Breeding singled home the Orioles' insurance run in the seventh.

The White Sox nudged Jim Bunning for two runs in the fifth on Minnie Minosa's single, Sherm Lollar's double and a single by Gene Freese and then racked up Tom Morgan in a four-run ninth featured by homers by Earl Torgeson and Freese. Baumann allowed four hits and one walk and didn't allow a Tiger base-runner to reach third.

Frank Baumann, who has victories against Detroit, pitched the White Sox to a 6-0 win that handed the Tigers their fifth straight loss in the only other American League game. Washington's twi-nighter at Boston was rained out.

Planted Fish Become Hard To Get After 48 Hours In New Environment

STEVENS

Howdy, folks! Gene Strickland, of San Francisco, called us to ask how come we announced there would be a planting of catchable sized trout in Lake Lagunitas in Marin County on two or three occasions, felt that he was unable to catch a single fish. He also insisted that very few other anglers connected.

We learned that Gene had done his fishing several days after the lake had been stocked. We imagine therein lies the reason. We told him so, and perhaps wounded his feelings by adding that usually for 48 hours after a plant is made the trout are more inclined to hit an angler's fly or lure or salmon egg or worm. But after the fish have become acclimated to the new environment they become choosey! It then takes a bit more skill to fill a creel; more knownhow and more TIMING. By that I mean the ability to almost anticipate the exact moment when the trout opens his mouth to take in and test what he sees before him. It is at that instant when the skilled trout angler snaps his rod from the horizontal to the verticle and sets the barb of the hook in the grizzly jaw of the fish. We have a hunch that more trout are lost through waiting for the fish to hook himself than for any other reason.

WE TALKED with Al Giddings, game warden of Marin, Tuesday and he admitted that immediately after a planting is made in any lake or stream many more fish are taken than after several days have elapsed. Assuming what we have said is true, it must follow that the taking of a limit or near limit of trout in Lake Lagunitas or any other body of water is more prideful and more exciting than otherwise.

GIDDINGS told us he had heard a rumor that some nice striped bass — 15 pounders and the like — were being taken from Baker's Beach. Al stressed that it was only a rumor.

We believe it to be founded on fact, however. No reason to doubt it.

This certainly is the time of the year when we expect plenty of action surfcasting from the various beaches. We suggest, if you try surfcasting, that you make it a point to cast BEYOND THE SECOND BREAKER if possible. Those big stripers seem to be more plentiful in the trough between the second and third breaker. Follow the receding wave out to the point of its return. Make your cast and hightail it back to shore.

Back East the favorite bait for surfcasting is a live or preserved eel. Perhaps the now popular Black Eel lure might be a killer in the surf. Might give it a try, eh?

BASS, somewhat smaller than expected, are still to be had trolling with the Black Eel lure in the Alcatraz area. Use a three pound sinkers and a sinker release, or a lighter sinker with a steel line. Bounce the bottom frequently.

Trolling along the Berkeley Richmond Flats is still hot in the early hours of the day. Best bet has been the white bugeye jig with porkrind. A few bass were taken trolling near Red Rock and under and near the Richmond Bridge Bait fishing in the same areas has been slow.

We will report on salmon outside the gate and bass fishing on the Marin shore tomorrow.

CLEM MILLER

On the scene in the FIRST DISTRICT...

The First District knows Clem Miller as the Congressman who gets to the heart of local needs at the very start—meeting problems on the spot; consulting and working with citizens' committees, local governing bodies.

Flood Control and Harbor Development: Clem Miller was on the scene from Washington only hours after the rivers crested and storms battered our coast last winter. With the information gleaned, he initiated successful hearings to speed up flood control and further harbor development.

Deterioration of Salmon-Steelhead Resources: Clem Miller was on the spot, leading the fact-finding hearing on this vital First District recreational and commercial resource. Result: successful legislation for game fish conservation.

Farm Meetings on the scene throughout the First District—initiated by Clem Miller—have helped resolve serious farm problems related to poultry, lamb grading, grape disease control, walnut marketing, farm labor.

Small Business Meetings co-sponsored with local Industrial Development Boards and Chambers of Commerce have helped acquaint First District businessmen and manufacturers with government purchasing needs and marketing services.

Clem Miller brings to the First District the recognition and representation it has so long needed. Says Speaker of the House, Sam Rayburn, "Clem Miller's fine personality and ability have placed him in a position in Washington where he is influential in the things he seeks for his district."

On the scene in WASHINGTON...

Washington knows Clem Miller as the newcomer who, from his first days in office, raised a strong voice for our District—at the same time asserting our larger interests by actively participating in national affairs.

Membership on the Banking and Currency Committee was sought and achieved by Clem Miller. This committee originates housing legislation—crucial to our First District industries of lumber and home building.

Leadership in the influential Democratic Study Group — Only newcomer on the Executive Committee, Clem Miller received national acclaim for his work on Civil Rights, Area Redevelopment and holding the line on the interest rate.

Membership in a Democratic Advisory Group engaged in drafting a foreign policy statement for the Democratic Convention in July. Clem Miller has sought to participate in every way available to a congressman in the cause of world peace.

Leadership in National Legislation — in matters affecting both his district and the country at large—conservation, forestry and poultry for example—Clem Miller has achieved national stature and recognition.

Clem Miller has introduced 42 pieces of legislation. 9 of these co-sponsored with other congressmen are now law. 5 others he initiated have also passed—more than twice the average of all other California congressmen. Says California's U.S. Senator, Clair Engle:

"I've become impressed with the effective and responsible job you are doing here in Congress. Having served 16 years there, I appreciate what your record represents in industry and in ability to win and hold support of your colleagues."

Solons Refuse To Drop Care For Aged Plan

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The House Ways and Means Committee refused by a 15 to 9 vote today to abandon efforts to attach some kind of medical care plan for the aged to a pending bill to revise the social security program.

The action cleared the decks for a crucial vote late today on a compromise version of organized labor's plan to expand social security into the field of medical care.

The 25-man committee is so evenly divided that the issue could be decided by a one-vote margin.

Two Democrats and seven Republicans voted to abandon efforts to attach any medical care plan to the pending bill which provides for other less far-reaching changes in the social security program.

The compromise would give elderly persons on the social security rolls a choice between higher cash benefits and hospitalization insurance. It would not take effect at age 65, but would go into force at 68 or some still older age.

Net Depot Annex Park May Open This Summer

Paradise Beach County Park at Tiburon, formerly the Naval Net Depot annex, may be opened to the public this summer if some minimum conversion work can be completed.

Members of the county parks and recreation commission agreed at a meeting yesterday that initial development costing about $10,000, should include picnicking, swimming and pier fishing facilities, parking space, water supply and sanitary facilities.

Only the area east of the entrance road would be opened by the first stage of development. Plans and funds still must be approved by county supervisors.

The commission also began a study of turning the recently acquired Army site overlooking Muir Beach into a view area where cars could be parked.

The commission took a stand against a proposal to move a building onto the Bolinas county park site. The building would be used as a library.

Commission members pointed out that the park is just over half an acre in size and already has tennis courts and sanitary facilities. The building and necessary parking spaces would hinder use of the relatively small area for park purposes, members said.

Blue Birds Pay Visit Sunny Hills

Carrying out their theme, "To do interesting things," brought two Blue Bird groups to a visit of Sunny Hills recently.

The "farm division" was the focal point of interest as the Sharing Blue Birds of Corte Madera presented two rabbits to the organization which they had helped raise at the home of Mrs. W. W. Nichols, their group leader.

Both groups arrived just at "milking time" and saw at first hand how the electric milking machines operate, the cooling of the milk through a specially designed de-icing process and the steps leading to the milk pasteurization.

Mrs. Leonard Kralka, group leader for the Merry Merry Blue Birds of Corte Madera accompanied the following Blue Birds to the afternoon outing: Ruth Berner, Carole Campanelli, Patty Campana, Terry Keate, Bonnie Keppel, Nancy Koester, Jeannette Kralka, Karen Mills, Joanna Pattalochi, Kathy Reynolds, Karen Thorson, Sandy Vranjos. Assistant to Mrs. Kralka this year is Mrs. Roy Berner, also of Corte Madera.

Included in the Sharing Blue Birds were the Misses Dianne Simpson, Ann Davis, Karen Valk, Barbara Fugate, Karen Nichols, Mary Jo Campschor and Claudia Reynolds under the direction of Mrs. Nichols of Corte Madera.

IN FASHIONS WHICH will be featured at the third annual "Poolside Luncheon and Fashion Show to be staged by the Episcopal Churchwomen of the Church of the Redeemer in Glenwood on Thursday, June 9, are five attractive models for the event. They include, from left, Mesdames H. W. Owles, M. Alden Van Pelt, Daniel H. Hudelson, J. A. White and Joseph A. Clyde. The event will be held at the home of Dr. and Mrs. A. G. Churchill in San Rafael. (Bob Hax photo)

Bersaglieri-Cooper Wedding In Carmel

Picturesque was Saturday's wedding of LeRoy Bersaglieri of San Anselmo and Colleen Cooper of Larkspur in the Blessed Sacrament Chapel of Mission San Carlos Borromeo in Carmel. Rev. Rudolph Rigo performed the double ring ceremony before the gold leafed altar.

The bride's gown had a fitted bodice of pale pink satin and the short white silk organza skirt was embroidered in an all over pattern of pink satin thread rosebuds. Pink satin streamers fell from the back of the scoop neckline. The bride's delicate pink tulle coronet, trimmed with seed pearls, held her short veil. She carried a prayerbook topped with a cluster of lilies of the valley and a white orchid.

The bride's sister, Judith Anne Cooper, a senior at Mary's Help College of Nursing, was her only attendant. Her gown of sheer white cotton was eyelet embroidered in pale blue, and her nosegay of white carnations was tied with blue ribbons.

Ronald Bersaglieri was best man for his brother. Don Anderson of Burbank escorted guests to their pews.

The ceremony was followed by a dinner at Mark Thomas Inn for members of the family and close friends. For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Lucy Andrus Cooper wore a light gray suit, a white petaled gamin hat and a white orchid corsage.

Mrs. L. A. Bersaglieri, mother of the bridegroom, was attired in a beige sheath with matching jacket. Her small hat was flowered and her corsage of cymbidiums matched her dress.

When the newlyweds left on a three weeks' honeymoon trip to Canada, Colleen was wearing a navy blue dress, white coat and white cloche. Her accessories were navy.

Colleen and LeRoy were both graduated from Marin Catholic High School. He has four brothers, Ronald, Allen, Richard and Gerry all of San Anselmo. He and his bride will reside in San Francisco.

McCarthy Deserves To Win Both Nominations Again

Not often does the Independent-Journal take a position in a party primary election. It has been our habit to refrain from endorsements in the primaries, and in general that is our policy this year too.

But one partisan race has an added element this year.

As you know, cross filing has been prohibited by legislative action even though the voters time and again expressed approval of it.

Marin County, well known for its individual thinkers, voted overwhelmingly to retain cross filing last time it was on the ballot; that was in 1952. At that time, the Marin majority against banning cross filing was one of the largest in the state. The people here apparently want to vote for the man they think is the best, regardless of party label.

As you know, last year the legislature, under the prodding of Gov. Edmund G. Brown, repealed the cross filing law. Tuesday's election will be the first state election at which the new law will be effective.

But the new law does not prohibit write-in votes for a candidate, regardless of party. And, as might be expected, here in Marin one candidate is making a sincere effort to capture both the Republican and the Democratic nominations through the write-in procedure.

He is Marin Senator John F. (Jack) McCarthy.

McCarthy, who has served 10 years in the upper house, always has been nominated by both the Republicans and the Democrats except in his first election, an interim affair without a primary vote. In both 1952 and 1956, he won both parties' backing.

Now, without being able to have his name on both ballots, he is again assured of the GOP nomination because he has no opponent, but is asking Democrats to write in his name on their ballots.

We wouldn't go along with such shenanigans if we didn't think our senator has been outstanding. He is today the leading Republican in Sacramento, when 10 years ago he was merely the youngest senator. He has the respect and admiration of both GOP and Democratic legislators and officials.

He is a fighting senator, whether it be for a reduction of the sales tax on drugs, a lower Golden Gate Bridge toll, billboard regulation, or scores of other projects he has undertaken as your senator. He has battled for the North Bay Aqueduct, highway safety, rapid transit, the state park system and many more.

In short, we recommend all Republicans put an X after his name and that Democrats write in Jack McCarthy on their ballots for state senator.

THREE MINUTES A DAY

ATHEIST STRESSES NEED FOR RELIGION

"Although I am an atheist, I feel we should have much more religion," was the unique stand taken by one man in a letter he wrote to his newspaper.

His note, printed in a "Letters to the Editor" column, then continued: "If we use too much excusing psychology and psychiatry, the whole system of morality, law and order collapses . . . What we need is a better moral climate; less violence in amusement media; parental responsibility; sharper punishment; less excuses for delinquency."

Despite the fact that this man qualifies himself as an "atheist," his statement reveals that the divine impulse of God's truth is working within him.

No matter how bleak the outlook may be in your life, your community or your world, the bit of divine goodness in you and in every man can neither be quenched nor eliminated.

Develop this great potential in yourself and others and you will render a service to everyone.

"He who does the will of God abides forever." (1 John 2:17)

Thanks, O divine Master, for blessing every person in the world with a built-in desire to do good.

Tragic Story Of Divorce And Its Aftermath Told By Court 'Winner'

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — She had done her best — that she was sure of.

The decree had been granted and she was alone in the dark with the two children that should have fleshed her and her husband together but in the end hadn't.

He hadn't fought her and she had had her way in court and the victory was all hers, and she wished in her dry mouth for the sweet taste of victory, but it had no flavor.

Yet the victory was there. The court said it was there. The children were hers, and she had got a good settlement — all he had in the bank — and lawyers' fees, the insurance and a third of his salary.

She could thank the judge for that. He had done what was right.

She had a feeling of relief. "I have done what was right, too," she told herself. She even told herself she held no anger against her husband. It was just life.

She went into the kitchen and opened the refrigerator and made herself a sandwich.

As she munched it she thought back about the whole thing. "What else could I do?" she thought. "After all I have my pride."

She pulled out a bottle of milk and poured herself a glass. She pushed back the refrigerator door. It slammed shut with a bang. She jumped, startled.

Nervously she opened the door again and the light came on. The judge had changed her life for tomorrow, but her refrigerator was stocked for the yesterday she was more familiar with.

As if she were from another world she studied its contents.

When she saw the meat loaf, good for a husband's lunch, she wanted to cry. That was something the judge had not divided.

It was true of the whole refrigerator. The judge hadn't gone into that. It still belonged to the family as it had been.

ALONE IN THE kitchen she heard her daughter cry from her bedroom, "Mommy, can I have a drink of water?" She took the child a drink and the girl sighed and relapsed in sleep.

And then her son stirred in his slumber, and murmured, "Daddy. Daddy."

The mother looked down at her boy in the dark, and her heart was dry for an answer. What would she say to him when he awakened?

SHE WENT BACK into the kitchen, opened the refrigerator, and pulled out the meat loaf.

She had meant only to make another sandwich for herself, but all of a sudden she clasped the cold meat loaf to her warm bosom and wept for the years ahead.

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Not Fluoridation Nor Communism

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

This question can be resolved quite simply: those who want or need fluoride treatment should consult their dentists, obtain same, and pay for it.

Radical? No, just old fashioned American 'each one pay his own' without leaning on this welfare state which apparently some of the local do-gooders are so eager to build up. . . .

I want neither fluoridation, socialism or communism in my life.

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

In trying to determine how I wanted to vote regarding fluoridation I ran into some information, supplied by friends of ours, which I had known before.

When their daughter was five years old they began to give her fluoride tablets once a day. When they made a trip to Sweden for a year, they took a supply of tablets along so that she continued to take them thru the year. When she was 10 years old, San Francisco added fluoride to the water and she then stopped taking the tablets.

She is now almost 18 years old and to date has not a cavity in her teeth. Her parents both lost many of their teeth and had countless fillings before they were 20 years old, so that it is not a matter of her having "inherited" good teeth.

I'll vote for fluoridation on the strength of this experience.

Dental Decay Not Necessary

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

With almost 34 years of dental practice and all of these years putting heavy emphasis on what is termed preventive efforts, one might think that I would be whole heartily enthusiastic about water fluoridation and accept it as a timely aid in controlling dental decay. . . .

Dental decay is not necessary with or without fluorine. If the public would not be so easily led by the refined food advertisers and eat wholesome food instead, then brush their crevices about the teeth promptly after eating have their teeth expertly checked and filled starting in early childhood, their dental repairs can be controlled. This has been done in the past and is a present reality in those dental offices practicing modern methods of prevention.

Fluoridation may be the way out for a portion of our problem or our children's, but we still must face the fundamental approach which has proved so successful for those who follow such type of service.

Real Questions Are Political

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

Fluoridation at 1 ppm could be proven 100% safe and effective, and the political issue, which is not fluoridation but fluoridation of the public water supply, would remain basically unchanged. . . .

The essential political questions each voter should ask himself are: Is fluoridation of the public water supply a legitimate extension of the police power and a reasonable restraint on individual freedom of choice in a matter of personal health to achieve a public good? Or does it unduly interfere with an inherent right, the right of each individual to be free to treat his health as he deems best so long as he does not interfere with the equal right of others?

These are the questions we must decide. They have not been and cannot be decided for us. . . .

So Much What For So Little?

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

Never were the people of any community offered so much in return for so little as in the case of fluoridation.

What are we promised? That a single organ, the tooth, will be benefited in the case of a single element of the population, the children. It is not even alleged that there is no alternative even in the case of the children; and little reference is made to the fact that the same results can be achieved by other methods, as by reduction in the use of sweets and the consumption of fluorine tablets . . .

There is no way of appraising the extent of the damage when a poison such as fluorine, in compounds unknown to nature, is administered continuously and inescapable to the population. It is absurd to say that the quantity will not be great enough to do damage. . . .

Why, may I ask, have we to gain that we should with open eyes take such chances?

I Have Just Made Horrible Discovery

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

I have just made a horrible discovery.

Table salt is composed of sodium and chlorine. Sodium will cause a sore if placed on the tongue, and chlorine is a poisonous gas.

I just wonder if other I-J readers don't think all right-thinkers shouldn't put our shoulders to the wheel, our noses to the grindstone and fight this thing. What say?

Fluoridation Letters

Scores of letters have been received by the I-J on fluoridation. Some already have been published. Today we are running excerpts from some others which cover most of the major points in the great majority of the letters. We do not anticipate running more letters before Tuesday's election.

Fluorides Gave Her Mottled Teeth

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

Would you like for the future unborn children of Marin to grow up with unsightly dark brown spots on their teeth? This many of them will have if fluoridation goes into Marin drinking.

I speak from first hand information. For I am one of those who was poisoned by natural fluoridation in drinking water. The mottling brown spots were in my tooth buds at birth, thru the drinking water consumed by my mother. I obtained this information from our family dentist Dr. Lynam. He told me that the only remedy was to have the teeth extracted entirely or porcelain jackets put on them. . . .

Sodium Fluorine Strongly Ionized

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

Fluorine is the most violently affinitive of the halogens. One drop of hydrofluoric acid left on the hand can cause pains throughout the entire body. I would be extremely cautious about mixing an acid with a cyanide or a fluoride. All soluble fluorides are very poisonous. They will react with the calcium necessary for metabolism.

Sodium fluoride which they propose to put in our drinking water is soluble and strongly ionized in solution.

Think What Is Good For All

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

My plea is, that when the people vote on fluoridation, that they think first, very clearly, what is good for all the people — all the time.

I have seen proof that many, many medical doctors do not agree with dentists, and other proponents of fluoridation, as to the safety for all people in regards to fluoridation.

We have a constitutional right to choose our own physicians, and treatment for our own bodies, so what moral or legal right does anyone have to force their endorsed treatment on another against the warning of hazards by ones own chosen physician? . . .

I-J REPORTER'S NOTEBOOK

By RANDALL GOULD

There's No Privacy About Our Errors; Sometimes We Make Them

Those immortal words "To err is human, to forgive divine" must have been written by some forlorn newsman with scars on his hide.

Such things as go wrong on a newspaper are public property. No privacy about our errors. No cover-up, as with morticians or doctors.

When a reporter misspells somebody's name, the welken resounds with screams of anguish and threats of libel action. When he credits Supervisor Bill Fusselman with voting "yes," what excuse has he?

Once in a while matters get so mussed that it is hard to know which way to turn.

ONE SATURDAY, for instance, a lady phoned about a story of a meeting (140 Marinites to attend) at Modesto. Seems the I.-J. had wrongly said it was to be in Sonoma, so a prompt cheerful paragraph was written to set all right.

And the headline (not writ by the reporter, a point realized by few) said "Meeting In Novato"! Nothing like getting a Marin angle, somehow.

I like to work for a paper with that attitude. Not all are so accommodating.

Having been making mistakes for years, I qualify as an expert.

The first such incident involved a paper I didn't even work for, except by remote control. I was cubbing for the City News Bureau of Chicago, a kind of local Associated Press maintained jointly by every journal in town. On a basis of a report I turned in on a court case, the Chicago Tribune editorially trounced a judge.

It was lucky for me that there was a manpower shortage just then. I got off with an interview in the judge's chambers. He wasn't rough on me when he noted my youth and heard I had been misled by lawyers, something he was in position to understand.

ANYHOW, THE POINT is that I have always admired the way the Trib handled such booboos. It carried its corrections under a standard boxed head reading "Beg Your Pardon." People looked for these items as a spicy feature of the paper. Thus the Trib turned embarrassment into an asset.

But a female colleague of mine showed that mistakes can be costly. She got bounced for locating a naughty house at the wrong address.

Dreadful was the fate of that girl. Next I heard of her she was superintendent of schools for the State of North Dakota.

It was a lesson to me and I went to China. Then in Peking, I nearly got massacred for making a joke, in a column I ran briefly, about the name of a southern gentleman in the U.S. Marines of the Legation Guard.

It was so bad that even apology was impossible.

THOUGH I SQUEAKED through personally, the column was discontinued soon after I printed a contribution purporting to list the number of residents who had died of old age while waiting for service at the American bank.

In Marin County, things run easier as a rule. When in spite of the unsleeping vigilance of our bosses, the hired help manages to hit a foul ball into I.-J. news columns, people are mostly mild and tolerant.

No doubt this is due to our salubrious climate, the birds, bees and flowers, and the fact that most of us love one another cordially.

There are a few screams as already mentioned, but seldom any actual gunfire.

Curiously—British, German Labor Parties' Aims Get Opposite Results

LONDON — It is a curious and engrossing fact that the two most powerful labor parties in Western Europe — the British Labor party under Hugh Gaitskell and the Social Democratic party in West Germany under the rising influence of Mayor Willy Brandt of West Berlin — today face opposite fates for opposite reasons.

In the area of social, economic, and foreign policy, Gaitskell and Brandt are near to being political twins. Each is strongly anti-Communist, strongly internationalist, and determined to stand up to Soviet threats. Each spurns doctrinaire socialism and realizes that nationalization of industry is no panacea to a nation's ills.

This is where the parallel ends.

MAYOR BRANDT is winning control of the West German Social Democratic party.

Gaitskell is showing signs of losing control of the British Labor party.

The German Social Democratic party in three consecutive elections has never been able to offer a serious challenge to Konrad Adenauer. It is turning to Brandt, to get a better chance of winning a majority of the German voters, even if it means abandoning much of its socialist tradition, and its past belief that it "could do business" with Khrushchev.

THE BRITISH Labor party is turning away from the leadership of Gaitskell because the trade union rank and file apparently prefer to press the cause of class warfare and turn back to their traditional policies of pacificism, neutralism.

The objectives of Gaitskell and Brandt are almost identical. In West Germany the most powerful forces within the Social Democratic party (the S. P. D.) are uniting behind Brandt. In Britain the most powerful forces in the Labor party are disuniting behind Gaitskell.

One needs to understand that there are two Labor party organizations in Britain. One is the T. U. C. (Trade Union Congress), which is about the equivalent of the combined A. F. L.-C. I. O. in the United States. The T. U. C. provides most of the contributions to the Labor party.

There is also the Parliamentary Labor party, which comprises the elected Labor M. P.'s in the House of Commons, who like to think of themselves as responsible to their constituencies, but who cannot readily ignore the policy directives from their main source of campaign revenue, the T. U. C.

WHAT DISMAYS and unsettles Gaitskell is that the T. U. C. unions have been piling up resolutions demanding that the Labor Party follow a policy of pacificism, neutralism, and unilateral nuclear disarmament.

If the summit had produced a real beginning towards East West disarmament, Gaitskell would have had a weapon with which to beat back the unilateral disarmers in his party. Now he hasn't that weapon and this is why the summit failure weakens Gaitskell at home.

Mill Valleyans Complain Of Bus Parking

Sleep is being lost and people cannot open their windows because of bus fumes from Greyhound buses are allowed to park on Miller Avenue near Tamalpais High School.

So, at least, alleged a letter, signed by 43 persons, which was read to the Mill Valley City Council at its meeting last night.

The letter asked the council for action to eliminate "this public nuisance and health hazard as soon as possible."

The council agreed to take up the matter at its next meeting, June 15, Acting Mayor George W. Blackwell saying the time would give the two new council members time to study the problem, which has been up before the council before.

"The roar of these buses being warmed up continually from the early hours until time to be used is unbearable," the letter said, "and makes it almost impossible to sleep. . . ."

Manuel Gomez, who owns apartments nearby, commented that Mill Valley is growing long pants now and "Its about time that Mill Valley did cease to lease the middle of the main entrance for a storage place to a public utility."

City Manager A. E. Almcrants said when the matter came before the city council a few years ago, Greyhound threatened to take the buses out of Mill Valley if there was no place to park them and just pick up passengers on the edge of town. The commuters felt it would be better to have the buses park in the street, he said.

MUMPS CASES SWELLING UP; MEASLES, TOO

Measles and mumps are on the rise again across Marin County.

The Marin County Health Department reported 49 new cases of measles and 36 of mumps for the week ending last Saturday.

San Rafael was the hardest hit community with 28 new measles cases and 21 mumps.

There were 10 measles cases in Novato, four each in Larkspur and San Anselmo, and one each in Marin City, Mill Valley and Fairfax.

Mill Valley reported five cases of mumps: San Anselmo, four; Corte Madera and Novato, two each; Larkspur, one, and there was one case in a rural area.

Three strep infections, one case of salmonella, two cases of gonorrhea and one of syphilis were also reported, said Dr. Carolyn B. Albrecht, health officer.

Rape Case Sanity Trial Continues Before Jury

A sanity trial continued today for John Alva Gordon, 26-year-old San Francisco beatnik who assaulted a blonde 20-year-old San Francisco girl at knifepoint near Stinson Beach last September.

A jury of nine men and three women, hearing the case before Judge Thomas F. Keating of Marin Superior Court, was expected to start deliberations this afternoon. They will decide whether the dark, bearded Gordon was insane when he assaulted the blonde, while her 19-year-old girl friend was forced to stand nearby. The attack took place on a rocky shore south of Stinson Beach about 9 a.m.

Gordon, represented by Public Defender Peter Allen Smith, entered a single plea of innocent by reason of insanity. This single plea means that the defendant says he committed the act but is innocent of the crime because of insanity, Dist. Atty. William O. Weissich explained.

If he is found sane, Gordon faces a prison term of three years to life for forcible rape.

Weissich argued that Gordon knew he was committing wrong and realized the consequences when he assaulted the girl. The use of the knife to threaten the girls, and the fact that he changed some of his outer clothing before leaving the attack scene show he knew what he was doing, Weissich contended.

After the attack, Gordon released the girls and headed back to San Francisco along Shoreline Highway on foot. Sheriff's deputies arrested him about three miles south of Stinson.

Gordon has a record of mental illness and crime. He was committed to a mental hospital in New York from 1952 to 1954. After his release, he was convicted of felony assault on a woman.

He came to San Francisco and became acquainted with the beatnik crowd in the North Beach area. Rejected by this group, he said, he walked to Stinson Beach and slept on the sand all night. He met the girls the next morning. He contends he was confused and in a daze and did not realize what he was doing.

Ex-Aide Urges Shakeup In Food, Drug Agency

WASHINGTON (AP)—A former food and drug administration official today advocated a shakeup of the agency staff and new laws to drive dangerous or untested medicines off the market.

Dr. Barbara Moulton, in testimony prepared for the Senate anti-trust and monopoly subcommittee, charged that some FDA officials are too friendly with the drug manufacteurers whose products they are supposed to police She is a practicing physician now in Charlestown, W. Va.

The doctor said she was shifted from one FDA post to another with an explanation that "I was not sufficiently polite to members of the pharmaceutical industry." She said Dr. Albert H. Holland Jr., FDA medical director, arranged the transfer and told her why.

Dr. Moulton said she resigned last Feb. 19 so she could be freer to fight for "a housecleaning within the administration." She had served for five years in the agency.

George P. Larrick, FDA commissioner, and Arthur S. Flemming, secretary of health, education and welfare, will have a chance to reply to her allegations when they testify tomorrow. FDA is a branch of the Welfare Department.

The subcommittee, which is investigating drug industry practices and pricing, also is looking into outside activities of Dr. Henry Welch, former head of the FDA's antibiotics division.

Flemming demanded and received Dr. Welch's resignation May 18 after the subcommittee heard testimony that Welch had received $287,142 from medical publishing firms doing business with drug firms under his supervision.

Dr. Moulton said she alleges no other big conflict of interest cases, but said others in FDA may have benefited from Welch's enterprises. She didn't name them.

Dr. Gideon Nachumi, now a Brooklyn, N. Y., physician, testified he once revised a speech to be made by Dr. Welch so it could be used to plug a new antibiotic drug.

Dr. Nachumi said he then was an advertising copywriter for Charles Pfizer and Co., a Brooklyn drug firm, and was was told that the speech text "required some jazzing up to bring out some sales points for Pfizer."

The revised text did not name the firm or its new drug, sigmamycin, Dr. Nachumi said. But it did mention a possible "third era of antibiotic therapy," a point he said the drug firm already had planned to stress in its advertising.

Bill Passed To Regulate Additives

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The House Commerce Committee today approved a bill that would forbid use of cancer-inducing chemicals to color foods and cosmetics.

Members reported that in a closed-door session the committee voted in favor of a color additives bill that generally followed the lines recommended by Arthur S. Flemming, secretary of health, education and welfare.

Under a recent interpretation of present law, a coal tar color cannot be used at all in foods and cosmetics if any amount of it, no matter how small, is deemed to be harmful in any way.

Today's committee action would authorize Flemming's office to set up tolerances for the use of such chemicals which it decided were safe in small amounts. But the measure would provide for an outright prohibition of any coal tar color found to induce cancer in animals or man. in any amount at all.

France, Spain and Portugal abolished slave trade in their African colonies in 1815.

Former Convicts In Trouble Again

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Two San Francisco men, former San Quentin Prison cellmates, found themselves in trouble with the law again today.

Police said they caught Van E. Boyce, 24, and Thomas W. Crumley, 31, trying to pry open a safe at the C. M. Murphy Auto Agency early yesterday. There was nothing in the safe.

The men told police they met last year at San Quentin, where Boyce was serving a term for auto theft and Crumley for armed robbery.

Tax-Free Municipal Bonds Getting Favorable Investment Attention

In today's tight money market, present investment interest is centering in tax-free, low-cost municipal bonds.

This is the word from Jess France, manager of the San Rafael office of York and Co., investment brokerage house and member of the Pacific Coast Stock Exchange.

"They are guaranteed by state agencies and offer a good yield," he said. "And they are particularly popular in the high income group."

He cited the recently announced $80,000 bond issue of the Novato Unified School District as one likely to attract investors.

There is also great interest, he claims, in European securities at this time. Factories are booming like our own, labor and raw materials are low and there is considerable activity among the common market countries of Europe.

AN ADDITIONAL OFFICE in Novato for Hall and Hoffman, San Rafael firm of house designers, has been established to handle the increasing business in the North Marin area. The new quarters are located at 986 Second Street.

Don Hoffman is already a Novato resident and member of the Novato Planning Commission.

"It's logical that I should be the one to spend most of the time there," he commented. "We have great faith in its future development. It's the natural direction for expansion."

Ray Hall will remain in the San Rafael office at 610 D Street. Architect Frederick Shaw of Sausalito is joining the organization.

...FIGURES RECENTLY released on comparative Marin County taxable transactions for 1958 and 1959 show the greatest percentage increase to have occurred in Corte Madera with a gain of 26.4 per cent. Low community on the totem pole was Ross with a drop of 7.6 per cent.

The average increase for the entire county was 17.9 per cent, the same figure also showing for the unincorporated areas. Second highest was Fairfax—26.4 per cent. Others: Belvedere 25.0, Mill Valley 19.6, Sausalito 19.5, San Rafael 16.5, San Anselmo 13.9, and Larkspur 10.9 per cent.

Total Marin County transactions for 1959 came to better than 154 million dollars, lower than Sonoma County's 175 million but indicating a greater yearly gain than the latter.

RANDOM FACTS: Births exceeded deaths in the U. S. by some 2,632,000 during 1959 . . . Approximately 1,494,000 marriages took place—a 3 per cent increase over 1958 . . . Americans write 61 billion letters a year—one-third of the world's correspondence . . . More than $1,600,000,000 was spent last year by people in the U. S. and Canada to read daily and Sunday newspapers — $1,500,000,000 of that in the U.S. alone . . . Americans also spent $1,100,000,000 for candy . . . One out of every six families in the country owns a home freezer.

WHO GOT THE BEST of this transaction?

A Minneapolis firm, the Wendell-Northwestern Corp., manufacturers—of all things—wooden nickels. They're used for advertising tokens and publicity gimcracks.

Receiving an order from another firm in California, Wendell-Northwestern dispatched a bunch of them post haste.

The check that had been sent to them in payment was returned from the bank marked "insufficient funds."

Question: Who was taken?

The California firm that got the wooden nickels?

Or Wendell-Northwestern that got the rubber check?

Generally Prosperous Summer Months Seen

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—Summer is starting early for a number of industries—to the dismay of some and to the satisfaction of others.

But most economists and business executives who speak their minds still are confident that a quiet but generally prosperous four months lie ahead.

The resort industry is looking for its biggest year. And that is also good news for all public transportation systems and for all those who service the family car. Most suppliers of recreation equipment are also convinced that the outdoor season is starting early.

But on the more sober side is the steadily declining output in the steel industry, the disappointing figures in the home building industry, and the lagging arrival of new orders in many manufacturing front offices.

Steelmen have seen their output slide in 11 of the last 12 weeks. The industry is now producing at about two-thirds of capacity. Orders have been coming in at a slow enough rate to seem to offer little hope of any pickup soon. And just ahead is the usual summer slowdown when many of steel's customers close for vacations of from one to three weeks.

An added complication this summer is likely to be the new attitude toward inventories seen in many manufacturing companies. Purchasing agents have been revising their ideas of how big a stock of various materials they need.

For one thing, the days of shortages and threatened shortages seem to be over. New supplies can be gotten quickly when needed. For another, electronic machines can keep more accurate tab on what is needed and when it will be needed than in the old days of inventory taking. Stock shelves tend to be skimpier these days.

Manufacturing firms in general have been reporting new orders lagging behind sales. In April, for the fifth straight month, the total of unfilled orders dropped.

This has led to some factory layoffs, although so far the biggest decline in employment has been in the steel industry itself.

Auto sales have been running ahead of last year, with a real spring pickup noted.

Bitter Charges Over Fluoridation Cloud Truths Of Controversy

(This is the fourth of five articles on fluoridation — what it is, its history, what it does, and arguments for and against it.)

By BRYCE W. ANDERSON

The issue of water fluoridation has reached the stage where, to its most ardent advocates, those opposed are "crackpots" and "the lunatic fringe." To its most bitter foes, those in favor are "Communist tools" and "mass poisoners."

The hullabaloo is quite reminiscent of that which, some 45 years ago, attended agitation for compulsory vaccination for smallpox.

Elbert Hubbard, the "sage of East Aurora," in his Philistine magazine of November, 1914, suggested that doctors falsified death certificates to conceal the fact the dead persons had been vaccinated.

Opponents of fluoridation today similarly accuse scientists, including medical and dental men, of falsehoods and concealment. And the arch-advocates of fluoridiation similarly impugn the motives of all those who do not favor it.

In such an atmosphere of distrust, truth is even harder to find than it usually is.

Some of the charges of anti-fluoridationists are too wild to be worth dissection—as for instance, the claim by Racey Jordan, one-time Air Force major, that it is a Communist plot and that drinking fluoridated water destroys the will power and ability to reason, making its drinkers easy tools of the Reds.

There are, of course, millions of people in the world who all their lives have been drinking water containing more fluorides than it is proposed to add to public supplies and who are no less independent and intelligent than those who drink water with lower fluorine content.

Interesting is the charge that fluoridation is a scheme to swell the profits of the aluminum industry, because sodium fluoride is an aluminum by-product. It would seem the aluminum industry is playing both sides of the street, for an article in the July, 1958, issue of the Betz Indicator, house organ of Betz Laboratories, Inc., consultants on industrial water problems, mentions that aluminum salts and activated alumina are employed to remove fluorides from water in which they are found in too great concentration.

Some persons fear that fluorides may have adverse effects on organs other than the teeth. The World Health Organization's expert committee on water fluoridation reported in 1958 that studies in 32 pairs of American cities—one of each pair receiving fluoridated water, the other not—showed mortalities from the five leading causes of death (including cancer) to be comparable, with no relationship to whether the water was fluoridated.

The same report said studies have failed to establish any relationship between fluoridation and arthritis, and no confirmed cause of allergy to fluoride in drinking water has ever been found.

Fluoridation of water supplies is endorsed as a safe, public health measure by quite an impressive list of organizations. It includes:

American Dental Society, house delegates of American Medical Assn., U. S. Public Health Service, World Health Organization, California Department of Public Health, California State Dental Assn., Marin County Medical Society, Marin County Dental Society, California Congress of Parents and Teachers, and many others.

The list of those condemning fluoridation includes: Church of Christ, Scientist; American Assn. of Physicians and Surgeons, New York Federation of Women's Clubs, Medical-Dental Committee on Evaluation of Fluoridation (headquarters Boonton, N. J.), J. I. Rodale, Emmaus, Pa., health book publisher; Marin County Taxpayers Assn., numerous individual doctors and dentists, and various "pure water committees" formed expressly for the purpose.

In Marin, the opposition has been organized by the Marin Pure Water Committee. Fluoridation is being promoted by the Children's Dental Health Committee.

The latter committee wrote to all schools of medicine and dentistry on lists supplied by state medical and dental societies, asking an expression on fluoridation.

Most of the schools replied. Many declined to make an official commitment for policy reasons. Many others came out flatly in favor of fluoridation. None came out against it, said Mrs. Lillian Loran, chairman of the committee.

Replies endorsing fluoridation came from the deans of such schools as University of California School of Dentistry, College of Physicians and Surgeons, Yale University Department of Public Health, Columbia University School of Dental Surgery, both medical centers of the State University of New York, Northwestern University Dental School and University of Rochester School of Medicine and Dentistry. On the whole, the schools of dentistry were more willing to speak out for fluoridation than were the schools of medicine.

The fact remains, however, that sodium fluoride and sodium silicofluoride are poisons—just as chlorine, long added to the water to kill bacteria, is a poison. Therefore, questions arise as to how they are to be added to the water, what happens to them in the water, and whether the amount in any given cupful will always be within the limits of absolute safety.

Don't Let Your Son Take Up Boxing; The Experts Say It's Too Dangerous

Another student killed in the ring!

He was in a boxing tournament at school. He licked two other boys. In this third bout he was knocked down. He got up. His opponents hit him again. This time he stayed down.

A brain surgeon worked on him for many hours.

"Massive hemorrhage," he reported. "Irreparable damage has been done. If he lives he'll be mentally retarded and paralyzed." But he didn't live.

Does your son want to box? Don't let him. It is too dangerous.

A committee of doctors and educators took a long look at boxing. They found it was a most hazardous of all sports. They found a direct relationship between the number of bouts a boxer had, and the amount of damage done his brain. They concluded boxing should be dropped as a school sport. Many schools have followed their advice. But not all.

So we still have deaths in the ring.

Boxing is bad in several ways. Did you know it is the only sport where the goal is to injure your opponent? If you hit him often enough and hard enough, you win. If you knock him out, you win in a hurry.

The other games have more humane goals. You struggle to win. But you don't have to clobber the other guy to do so.

Our brain is fragile. It is not built for heavy jolts. Some damage comes with every hard blow. Once brain tissue is damaged, it is finished. Brain cells do not rebuild themselves.

The more we learn about our mental processes, the worse boxing seems. I repeat, don't let your son take up boxing.

READERS' FORUM

(Q) "My daughter is going steady with a boy. They are both 16. They are nice, responsible kids. Does going steady mean they are engaged? What are the risks?"

(A) It does not mean they're engaged. It does mean they've agreed not to date others. The chief risk in going steady is of undue intimacy. Couples spend a lot of time together. The irresponsible ones may start necking, and go too far. However, millions of 16-year-olds go steady without trouble.

PG&E Slates Award Dinner Tomorrow

Pacific Gas and Electric Co. will honor 55 employees of its North Bay division and Marin district at a service award dinner at Rickey's Rancho Rafael in Ignacio tomorrow.

Employees are honored upon completing each five-year period of service.

Topping the list of Marin award winners are seven employees who have completed 35 years with the company. They are: A. J. Anderson, C. G. Besslieu, D. L. Eden, G. W. Hughes, L. K. Mabie and E. R. McWilliams, all of San Rafael, and A. C. Lee of San Anselmo.

Completing 30 years with PG&E are H. A. Danielson and G. Eden of San Rafael, A. Gerson and H. M. Harris of San Anselmo and L. C. Wise of Novato.

Three 25-year men are A. E. Bagley of Fairfax, F. M. Scott and L. D. Pitts of San Rafael. Twenty years have been completed by W. M. Rains and P. A. Ransom of San Rafael and R. L. Sisler of San Anselmo.

Auto Safety Check Set In Novato

A two-day free auto safety check will be conducted in Novato June 10-11.

The check lane will be located near Machin and Vallejo Streets. Vehicles will be checked for correct operation of front and rear lights, steering, brakes, exhaust, horn, wipers and tires, and for safeness of mirrors and windowglass.

Highway patrolmen will assist in the check but will not issue citations for violations. Cars passing the safety test will be issued safety stickers.

The check is sponsored by the Novato Kiwanis Club with the aid of Lions and Rotary clubs, the chamber of commerce and the city.

Last year, more than three million cars were checked in the nationwide program. One out of five was found deficient in at least one of the areas checked.

'WE WUZ ROBBED'

Census Incenses Many U.S. Cities

By U. P. INTERNATIONAL

Many cities are complaining "We wuz robbed" by Uncle Sam's census takers.

Some have formally asked a recount after seeing preliminary figures released by the Census Bureau.

Others voiced deep concern and started independent audits of the nose count. They feared the effect an incomplete population count would have on city treasuries—and civic pride.

Dayton, Cleveland and Cincinnati, Ohio, are among those worried about damage to city pride. San Francisco and Detroit are among those facing loss in state and federal aid.

Dayton Safety Director Charles W. Horlacher said, "Oh, no," when he learned the figures showed his city had grown only 12,267 persons over the last 10 years, despite considerable annexation of new territory. The Dayton population was set at 256,499.

Mayor Anthony Celebrezze of Cleveland said he was shocked to find out his city's population dropped 43,393 to 871,415, putting the city's seventh place ranking among the nation's cities in jeopardy. St. Louis may take over the seventh place because of the tally.

Cincinnati Mayor Donald Clancy and chamber of commerce officials challenged the census report that the Queen City lost 20,000 persons to drop the population to 487,866.

Dayton also had a financial worry. A chamber of commerce official said if the figures are correct, it will mean loss of "millions and millions of dollars of business that would normally come here."

San Francisco officials cerned over the possibility the city's population may be down from the 1950 figure of 775,357, although census officials refuse to give a preliminary figure or estimate.

Guesses are that the population will show a drop of from 10,000 to 40,000 during the past decade.

Mayor George Christopher called an emergency session of top officials to study the situation. They started an all-out drive to get everyone in San Francisco counted, sending police and firemen out to check for uncounted persons. They distributed "I am not counted" forms to libraries, schools and other places.

San Francisco stands to lose 2 million dollars in state allocations, even if the count is the same as in 1950, due to the relative increases in other areas.

Officials and chamber of commerce members had figured the population would be around 800,000, and the possibility of a loss came as a great shock.

Mayor Louis Miriani of Detroit said there is "margin for error," although the city was not yet planning to challenge the census count. Miriani assigned someone to check with schools, public utilities and other places, as a "sort of audit" of the census.

The Detroit population dropped 170,955, or 9 per cent, which will mean a loss of $8,300,000 in distribution of state aid.

"We are building several new schools because we were told our population has gone up," Miriani said, which makes it hard to "reconcile such a big drop" in the over-all population.

Kansas City, Kan., was moving to annex some suburban territory before July 1, so it can keep the city in the over 130,000 population bracket. Officials said last year's city census showed 131,000 persons but the federal census this year showed 121,344.

Officials said many modern state laws cover cities of over 130,000 persons. Mayor Paul Mitchum said it "would be chaotic trying to operate under laws passed many years ago for cities of over 120,000 persons."

The Kansas City, Mo., City Council was surprised and unhappy that the city gained only about 11,000, to bring the total to 468,325. Councilman Charles Shafer said the population should be more than 500,000. He asked that the figures be checked.

Shafer said St. Louis rechecked its census and found substantial error.

Mayor J. Bracken Lee of Salt Lake City is asking for a recount because he believes an error of from 9,000 to 15,000 under the actual population was made. The latest revised total for Salt Lake City is 188,197, which gives the city a gain of only 6,057 since 1950.

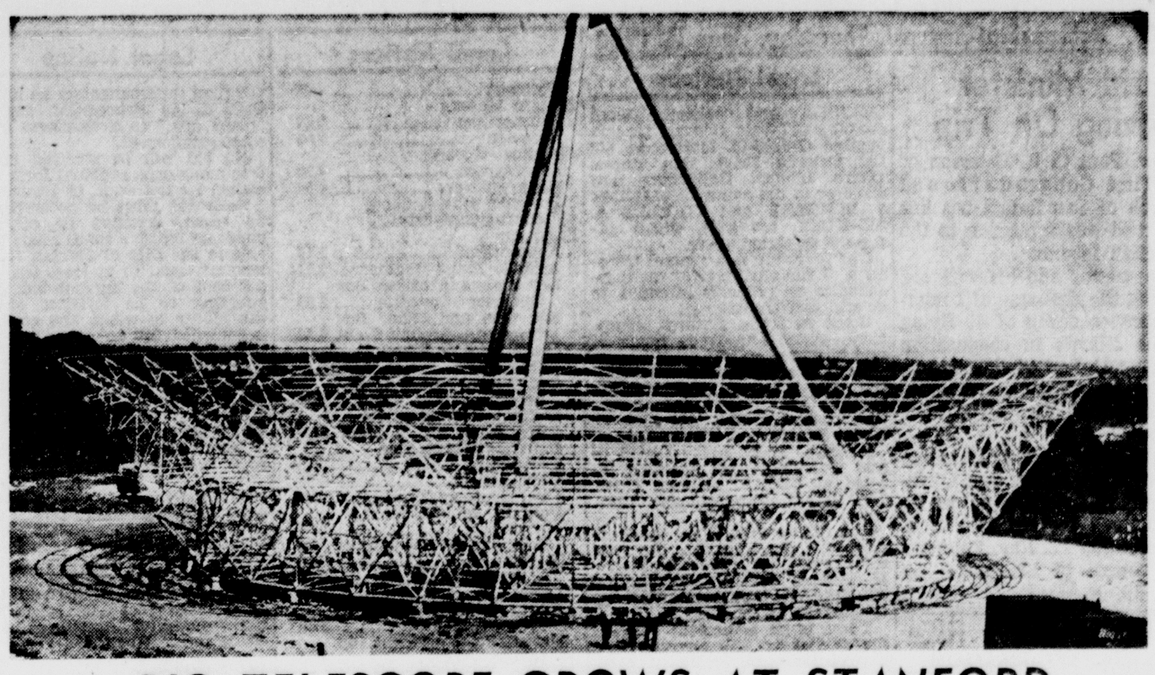
The Apartment House Assn. said the city hast he greatest number of rental vacancies since World War II.

Rock Springs and Sheridan, Wyo., also have asked for census recounts.

Marinite Elected Class President

Gary Giacomini of Corte Madera has been elected 1960-61 junior class president at St. Mary's College in Moraga.

A 1958 graduate of Marin Catholic High School, Giacomini plans to major in English at St. Mary's. He is a son of County Recorder and Mrs. Noel T. Giacomini, 28 Tamal Vista, Corte Madera.



BIG TELESCOPE GROWS AT STANFORD

Mammoth bowl of big radar telescope taking shape at Stanford University will have a reflecting surface of nearly half an acre when it is completed late this summer. RECUPERATING FROM THE HOLIDAY RUSH

The pace of the holiday weekend apparently proved too much for this little lady, 13-month-old Patricia Ann Sullivan of East St. Louis, Ill. So she pillowed her head on her shoes and fell sound asleep at the wheel of her walker. Photo was taken by her dad, J. Leonard Sullivan, a photographer for the St. Clair and Madison Counties Journal. Novato High Dance Slated

Novato High School seniors will start sharing the privileges of "old timers" at senior week events beginning tomorrow with the senior ball and continuing through a senior breakfast, picnic, baccalaureate ceremonies and graduation.

Seniors will be excused from school at 2 p.m. tomorrow to begin preparation for the senior dance at the Corte Madera Recreation Center. Ernie Hecksher's six-piece band will play from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m., with records filling in until 2 a.m. The dance, free for the seniors, will include refreshments.

The senior breakfast will be June 10 at Novato Joe's, followed by the picnic at Stinson Beach.

Baccalaureate ceremonies will be from 8 to 9 p.m. June 12 in the high school gymnasium.

Final examinations June 13 and 14 will interrupt the fun. Graduation ceremonies will open at 8 p.m. June 16 in the gymnasium.

County Comment

by

Bill FUSSELMAN

WILLIAM D. FUSSELMAN
Incumbent
SUPERVISOR
District 2

YESTERDAY I SAT DOWN AT MY TYPEWRITER TO PREPARE THIS ADVERTISEMENT. It started this way:

"COUNTY COMMENT by Bill Fusselman . . . In which I discuss the Civic Center and Fairgrounds project . . . This has become one of the most difficult duties I have had to carry out . . . It is difficult because I never question the right of other members of the Board of Supervisors to vote as they do, even though I have been subjected to angry criticism by one element of the Board, when I voted my convictions . . . It is also difficult to discuss factually the situation without appearing to be involved in the campaigns of the other two Supervisors, who are up for election . . . For weeks and weeks I have searched for a method or manner in which to talk to you about it" . . .

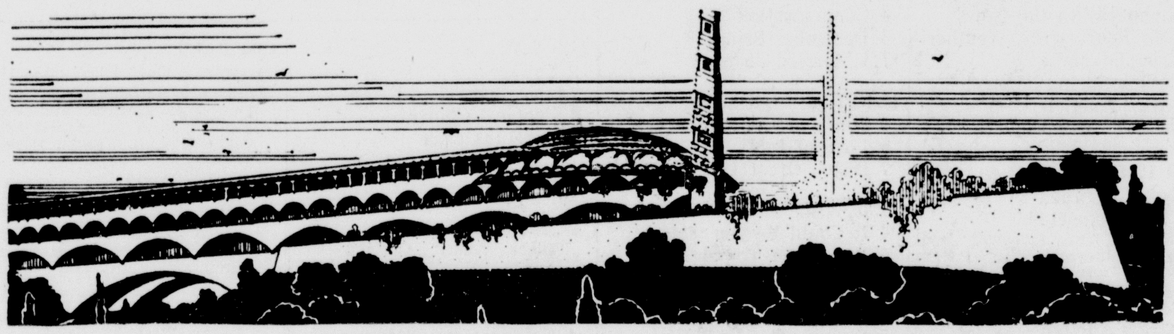
THAT IS WHAT I WROTE YESTERDAY. Well, today is another day. I have just read the column, "I-J REPORTER'S NOTEBOOK by Donald G. Davis," in which he says among other things about the Supervisorial Candidates . . . "Marin's government has been criticized as bureaucratic, as an evil that is picking the pockets of the taxpayers. SUPERVISOR WILLIAM D. FUSSELMAN of San Anselmo is a foe of the civic center and of bureaus. But some people think that he isn't up to date. Those people are Mrs. Schultz and other members of the board." I HAVE KNOWN DON DAVIS for a number of years and have never found him to lie; therefore I accept his statement as true.

OCTOBER 9, 1958, IN AN ADVERTISEMENT I ran about the Charter, I wrote this . . . "AS A SUPERVISOR, I had intended to take no part in the charter discussion, feeling it was the province of the people to accept or reject this document without interference from the Board of Supervisors. However, since one member of the board is serving as co-chairman of the committee to force the charter through, I feel free to comment."

SO, TODAY IS ANOTHER DAY. I shall have no hesitancy now. I feel released from considering propriety, as I did in October of '58.

AN AMUSING SITUATION JUST OCCURRED TO ME. During the attempt by the committee to force the charter on the citizens, there was no limit to the condemnation heaped on the County Government, then. Now, in just two short years, it has become the acme of perfection. And complete, full and sole credit is being claimed by one person.

NOW, LET'S HAVE A WORD ABOUT THIS BUSINESS OF NOT BEING UP TO DATE. If wanting to know about the details of recommendations being considered by the Board, and trying to see if there is a real need, and if the expenditure of the taxpayers' money is justified, then I will have to plead guilty. You know, there is an old saying . . . "All that is new is not good and all that is good is not new." I think it is pretty good to remember when one is spending someone else's money.



FURTHER ON, IN HIS ARTICLE, he had this to say . . . "So far, at least on the surface . . . Fusselman's opponents do not appear to be caught in this web of circumstances." HERE IS A BIT OF INFO FOR DON. From a coffee hour, today, comes this gem . . . "She has good ideas, although some of them are impractical. The other men don't always understand what she is trying to do. With my professional knowledge, I could explain these things to them."

NOW, GETTING ON WITH THE CIVIC CENTER FAIRGROUNDS DISCUSSION—It seemed to me that the word FANTASY might describe the situation accurately. So, to be sure, I looked it up in the dictionary and found these . . . "FANTASY . . . 1) A fantastic notion or mental image . . . 2) A fantastic design . . . 3) The form that brings before the mind as such, severed from ordinary relations . . . 4) In music a fantasia . . . 5) A capricious mood. I then looked up the word fantasia and found this, among other definitions . . . A prelude to an organ fugue. So, I looked up fugue and found, in addition to the musical reference, this most interesting item . . . 2) In psychiatry, an interval of flight from reality . . . a form of amnesia.

NOW TAKE A LONG CLOSE LOOK AT THE DRAWING reproduced here. This is a photo of the architect's drawing or design on the cover of the detailed plans submitted to the contractors for bidding purposes. It was a very large sketch. I had it reduced for this page. A friend of mine said to me, when the sketch was first published, "IT LOOKS LIKE THE QUEEN MARY OR SOME OTHER OF THE TRANS-ATLANTIC LINERS TAKING OFF." Shortly after the death of Mr. Wright, both Life and Time magazines published some very illuminating articles on the architect, his work and his remarks, made from time to time during his life. One was particularly interesting, in view of my friend's remark. Here it is . . . "I always wanted a ship, but on dry land. I am a bad sailor, even though I've had to cross the ocean 26 times." . . . Well, there we have it . . . gratifying a man's whimsical FANTASY.

AT THE GROUND-BREAKING CEREMONIES, MR. EDWARD STONE, the famous architect, who designed the buildings for the United States exhibit at the Brussels world fair, made this remark . . . "Mr. Wright was my personal friend and personal hero for the past twenty-five years . . . to my knowledge this is the first opportunity he was given to build a design for a civic or government building . . . " So the taxpaying property owners of Marin are having the honor of paying taxes to be spent on the first try of an architect on a governmental building design. The Master and his disciples long laid great emphasis on his ability to create organic design, where the structures become an extension of nature, springing or flowing out of the terrain . . . QUESTION? . . . THE MANY MILLION DOLLAR ONE . . . HAVE YOU EVER SEEN A SHIP SPRINGING, ORGANICALLY, OUT OF A HILLSIDE???? That's right the word is FANTASY.

NOW PONDER THIS . . . This unit, now being built, is 540 feet long. I asked some qualified engineers how high it would be, if it were set up on end as a building; how many floors would be provided. Their answer was, with usual 14-foot height of floors, somewhat over 36 stories . . . Let's think that over for a minute . . . THE CROWN - ZELLERBACH BUILDING JUST COMPLETED ON LOWER MARKET is 20 stories high. I believe most of you have seen that building. So, let's ask ourselves this. Do we need a building 16 stories higher than that building? In the Crown-Zellerbach building you step off the elevators right into the department you want, occupying the entire floor. No wasted space with concourses and/or outer and inner walls. This Civic Center was a mail order job all the way through. I will take that up later. For the moment, let us go back to the ground breaking where we find another bit of FANTASY which is quite amazing. The member of the Board who is now claiming to be ". . . the moving force in bringing Marin its paid-in-advance Civic Center," made this statement . . . "this is the only county out of three thousand and fifty in the United States that has ENDOWED ITS PEOPLE with a civic center designed by one of its foremost architects. That is something we can always remember with pride." It would appear that someone bought it for us as a present. Just who is endowing what for whom? Maybe it is just FANTASY, but I am under the impression that those were your dollars that are being spent . . . THERE IS ANOTHER STRANGE BIT OF FANTASY. Continuously, over and over again the statement is made that this will be, ". . . A GREAT TOURIST ATTRACTION." Just take a ride out that way, soon, and see how the building is being put on the other side of the hill; something like the song hit of a few seasons ago . . . "She lived on the morning side of the mountain; he lived on the twilight side of the hill."

MRS. WRIGHT SAID, "The ground breaking ceremony taking place this morning is an historical event. It designates progress and strength and democratic government of the United States of America. It states the truth of the government by the people for the people is at work, no matter how hard the forces arraigned themselves to oppose it. It gives us courage to believe that this government center will be the finest in the world and that it was brought about by the citizens of Marin County and its enlightened leaders. It is their vision and courage that struggles for the finest and noblest, that made this historical event possible. This county will go into the records of history as the most illuminant county in America. It is to the people of America that Mr. Wright dedicated this building." Of course the lady was not told that there has never been permitted any sort of official expression of the people of the county. There was an attempt to get an initiative vote by the people. The court held that it was a ministerial function of the Board to build housing for governmental activity and not subject to the action requested.

IT HAS ALWAYS SEEMED TO ME THAT ADVANTAGE WAS TAKEN OF THIS technical point in building a "tourist attraction" and monument to a great architect. An endorsement would appear to be called for when such was the objective. In addition to the thousands of signatures on the petitions for the initiative, the Board received many hundreds of letters and post cards, praying that the citizens be given an opportunity to express themselves. These were brushed off as nuisance, with a perfunctory letter by the Administrator instead of by the Board. This project was hardly . . . ". . . brought about by the citizens of Marin County."

ONE OF THE MOST FREQUENT REASON GIVEN FOR MOVING TO THE CIVIC CENTER is that the County was paying out some $40,000 in rent per year (up this year to $60,000) and this rental money will be saved. As a conservation of your tax dollars that is definitely a FANTASY. Here is why. First, let me say that the reason for the increase to $60,000 this year was caused by the landlords upping the rent to take care of the increase in their taxes. This leaves no net difference. The County gets increased taxes to offset the increase in rents. This leaves the impact on the tax rate the same as last year or 2¢ on the $100 valuation or as we speak of it . . . 2¢ on the rate. This certainly is FANTASY . . . SPENDING 42¢ ON THE TAX RATE TO SAVE 2¢. IT WOULD TAKE 21 YEARS TO CATCH UP WITH ONE YEAR'S DRAG ON YOUR POCKET BOOK.

I CALLED THIS A MAIL ORDER JOB. Now hang on to your seats while you hear these things.

THERE IS NO EVIDENCE THAT THE MASTER WAS ON THE SITE MORE THAN A FEW HOURS. His representative and the Civic Center Committee, made up, with one exception, of appointed personnel, who were not directly answerable to the electorate, ran the show. The Board of Supervisors were given the honor of rubber stamping the recommendations as they came in. A true curtain of silence as far as the public was concerned.

HIS REPRESENTATIVE, OFFICING IN SAN FRANCISCO, AT THE SAME TIME AS HE WAS WORKING ON THE CIVIC CENTER, WAS ALSO ONE OF THE ARCHITECTS DOING THE MARIN CITY LOW RENT HOUSING PROJECT.

HERE IS WHERE YOU HANG ONTO YOUR SEATS. The fee for that job was under 5%. There is every reason to state that it was in the neighborhood of 2½%. It was a $5,000,000 job, also. The up-coming redevelopment project to be done by Mr. James Scheur and which will be a $15,000,000 affair is to have an architect's fee of under 5%.

THE MASTER WAS QUOTED, in Time Magazine of April 20, 1959, as follows: — (speaking to his apprentices) . . . "YOU CAN STAY HERE FOR YEARS AND NEVER TOUCH THE BOTTOM, SIDES, OR TOP OF THE GREAT PRINCIPLES AT WORK HERE." You will recall that I made a motion to have the plans etc. presented to the Board, at his death, so that we might see how far they were along. You will also remember I could not receive a second to my motion. So, a new contract was written with the Frank Lloyd Wright Foundation at 10%. There was something very strange occurred at the time the plans were brought to the County. The Foundation asked for and received an extension of time to December 15 last year. That day was a regular Board meeting day. There was suspense in the air. A larger than usual Luncheon Cabinet assembled. However no plans were presented to the Board in session. Two days later the announcement was made on the K.T.I.M. Sounding Board program that the plans had been received and that after a few days they would be presented to the Board by the committee. THERE WAS A TIME LAPSE OF TWO MONTHS LESS 4 days before presentation to the Board in session. Then there was a great rush to rapidly discuss the many sheets. About an hour and a half in the morning and about the same in the afternoon, then whoosh and away. No announcement, so that the public might be present and ask questions. I was permitted to ask some to the obvious annoyance of the group.

OVER HALF A MILLION DOLLARS IN ARCHITECTS FEES ARE INVOLVED FOR THE PRESENT PHASE. The total can go over A MILLION. Had that money been paid to local talent it would have been an assist to the local economy. Instead most of it goes to the State famous for its cheese production. All types. I think we took a clobbering.

MY FRIENDS, I hope these things, which are only part of the story, will explain to you my position in this entire matter.

Sincerely

Bill Fusselman
